QUAKE SHAKES ITALY: 2,000 DEAD, REPORT

SMALL, SEEKING OFFICE, TURNS BACK $143,585

Pays State Interest Held 15 Months.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 7.—[Special.]—James Small (now the Lundin-Thompson candidate for governor) left the office of state treasurer for the purpose of turning over to the state more than $143,585 in interest on public funds. But he recently has paid this sum into the state treasury.

This is shown by three public records, those of the state treasurer, auditor of public accounts, and director of finance. An official report, of which a duplicate is printed elsewhere in this issue of THE TRIBUNE, establishes the fact beyond question.

This report is made by Fred E. Sterling, treasurer, to Frank O. Lowden, governor, and it was subscribed and sworn to July 19, 1920, before Harry C. Lehrs, a notary public of Kane County, who is a political protégé of Mr. Small. He is an employee in the state treasurer's office.

Small Treasurer Twice.

The Thompson-Tamm candidate for governor has been state treasurer twice. He was elected the first time in 1914. During that term of office he received whatever interest he collected on public funds. He turned no interest into the state treasury, so far as the state auditor of public accounts could ascertain from his records today.

The next treasurer was John F. Smulski. He gave the taxpayers the interest earned on their money. His interest earnings paid into the treasury were $169,514.97. Smulski was elected in 1916. The law requiring the treasurer to give up interest was not passed until March, 1918. Since then all treasurers have been turning in interest.

Small Back in 1916.

Mr. Small was next elected in 1916 as state treasurer and took over the office Jan. 5, 1917. He made no report on interest earnings until Sept. 30, 1918, approximately twenty-one months after he was installed. Then he reported that he had earned and deposited to the credit of the state $306,433. He went out of office Jan. 13, 1919, without making any other report of interest collected, according to the records of the state auditor.

In fact, he made no report of interest in the succeeding year. The last quarterly report of the treasurer to the governor shows that he turned over to the state $143,585.79 between March 11 and June 1 of 1920. The records of the state auditor show for "April, 1920" the following:

Small's Retained More Than Year.

These records therefore show that Mr. Small earned $143,585.79 in interest in the last 105 days of his term, although he was unable to earn more than $206,434.33 in the first 631 days of his term. Furthermore, he retained $143,585.79 for one year three months and ten days after his term of office had expired.

The reason for the delay is not obtainable in the state capital. Mr. Small is making campaign speeches in Chicago and perhaps he will give some of the audience a satisfactory explanation.

This $143,585 for the fifteen months was worth $10,790 at 6 per cent and $14,000 at 8 per cent in the commercial world. A private corporation would reckon a loss on that basis, but the law to the state is much less because it has been receiving only 2 per cent. There are a number of reliable sources which recently would be willing to pay 4 per cent for the unbroken and uninterrupted use of $143,585 for one year.

Only $439,000 for Two Years.

Mr. Small's total earnings for his two terms total $439,000. The present treasurer, Fred E. Sterling, has already turned in $604,735.57 in the first fifteen months of his term of office. The records indicate he makes a settlement with the state each month. The deposits of banks of the state are not for several years have been required to pay interest monthly.

The present state law, which was the law when Small was last treasurer, says "that the state treasurer shall deposit all moneys received by him on account of the state within five days after receiving the same in such banks."

STACKS' DIARY OF DOMESTIC LIFE A REAL SCRAPBOOK

Affidavit Sounds Like Dempsey in Action.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 7.—[Special.]—Alleged fistfights in high society circles were revealed today when James Langford Stack, noted polo player and wealthy head of the J. L. Stack Advertising company, appeared on crutches in Judge Taft's court to fight the demand of his wife, formerly Miss Elizabeth Wood, for $1,500 a month alimony.

MRS. J. L. STACK.

Stack is compelled to use crutches, according to court developments today, because of injuries which he suffered in an altercation with his wife and immediate relatives.

In an affidavit filed by Stack's attorney, Byron C. Hanna, Stack alleged specifically that his ankle was hurt in the altercation between him on one side and his wife, her sister, her brother and her father on the other, on the night of Aug. 16.

The affidavit was presented to oppose alimony pending a trial of the wife's divorce suit.

Hearing Up Monday.

Attorney Sam Haskins, representing Mrs. Stack, stated that he had not been given an opportunity to meet the allegations contained in the affidavit and the preliminary hearing was continued until next Monday.

It appeared from the affidavit that Stack had objected to his wife going out at night and had locked the door at midnight, refusing his wife admission if she came home after that hour.

Mrs. Stack, it was alleged, came home the night of Aug. 16, and failing to gain admission, returned later with her relatives. While Stack and his wife's sister were parleying at the door, he alleged her father and brother "slipped up behind him" and struck him on the ankle with such force as to knock him to the floor on his hands and knees.

When he tried to arise, he alleged they hit him on the head again. He was injured so badly that he was forced to go to a hospital for three days and still is compelled to use crutches, the affidavit says.

View of Irish Republicans.

THE TRIBUNE'S Dublin correspondent asked Arthur Griffith, "acting president of the Irish republic," this morning what was his reply to Mr. Lloyd George? Mr. Griffith declined to talk, but a prominent Republican said:

"The premier's suggestion is ridiculous in view of the organized terrorism by the government. Since January forty-four civilians have been murdered by the police and soldiers, apart from those killed in armed conflicts."

"Today I have received a message from Limerick saying the black and tans (new khaki police), after destroying creameries and houses have begun to burn the crops and shoot cattle as punitive measures. The premier's suggestion is not practical and the outlook is not hopeful. MacSwiney is dying for freedom, and when our turn comes we will be ready. Ireland's attitude has stiffened in the last fortnight and waverers and moderates are moving toward the left."

Statement by Chaplain.

At Brixton prison, Father Dominic, chaplain, on leaving prison, told me:

"The lord mayor is suffering great pain in the left side of the abdomen and heart. He still was conscious this morning and able to speak. The lord mayor has no authority to make any promise in behalf of the Sinn Féin for cessation of the murders in Ireland. He is only an individual, not a commander in chief. If the government is satisfied the murders are taking place, why doesn't it capture and execute the murderers?"

An Irish girl this morning took a wreath to Britain for the lord mayor and was disappointed when refused admission to see him. Father Dominic has received a cable from "President de Valera for MacSwiney, reading: 'Convey to the lord mayor my personal regards.'"

LONDON LETS 8 CORK POLITICAL PRISONERS GO

Premier Returns to London Secretly.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—Prime Minister Lloyd George reached London unexpectedly tonight from Lucerne. He traveled direct, instead of through Paris as planned.

BULLETIN.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] LONDON, Sept. 7.—Sir Donald MacLean, leader of the Liberal party, speaking at a campaign meeting here tonight, declared there is a remarkable consensus of opinion against letting the MacSwiney hunger strike continue, adding the government is deliberately flouting moderate opinion both in and outside Ireland.

BY JOHN LESTER.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] LONDON, Sept. 7.—Eight political prisoners, who were not hunger striking, were released today from Queenstown. The hunger strikers in prison here are in a most serious condition.

Ten prisoners have not been tried and the eleventh has been in jail for twelve months, although convicted of no crime.

Begin Twenty-ninth Day.

The unconvinced hunger strikers began their twenty-ninth fast today this afternoon.

Their strike has aroused "tense public interest. The church is daily filled with children, old men and old ladies, angling their beads and praying for repose of the souls of the prisoners."

The first death among the strikers is expected momentarily.

DOUBT RELEASE STORY

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] LONDON, Sept. 7.—The alleged interview with Prime Minister Lloyd George at Lucerne, Switzerland, in the Times today, in which he is quoted as offering to release MacSwiney in return for a guarantee that the murders of policemen in Ireland shall cease, is not credited by official London.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, Irish chief secretary, thinks the premier may have said casually in conversation that MacSwiney might be released if the murders would stop.

View of Irish Republicans.

THE TRIBUNE'S Dublin correspondent asked Arthur Griffith, "acting president of the Irish republic," this morning what was his reply to Mr. Lloyd George? Mr. Griffith declined to talk, but a prominent Republican said:

EVANSTON MAN LOSES EYE IN GOLF MATCH ON GLEN VIEW LINKS

W. W. Buchanan, president of the Commercial Loose Leaf and Press company, 20 South Clark street, lost his right eye in a golf match at Glen View Country club Saturday.

It was learned yesterday.

Mr. Buchanan lives at 1428 Chicago avenue, Evanston, and is president of the Evanston hospital board of directors and a director of the Evanston City National bank.

The golf ball struck his right temple, breaking his spectacles. Glass splinters entered the right eye. First aid was administered and he was removed to the Evanston hospital, where Dr. Charles J. Swan said the eye would have to be removed. This was done. The left eye will be saved, it was said.

Mr. Buchanan is a member of the Chicago Athletic association, the Chicago Association of Commerce, and the Evanston club.

LENROOT LEADS IN WISCONSIN

Moses Is Winner in New Hampshire.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 8, 2 a. m.—At 1 o'clock this morning Irvine L. Lenroot, present incumbent, was leading James Thompson, La Follette's candidate for the Republican nomination for the United States senate, by nearly 2,000 votes.

Returns completed by the Milwaukee Sentinel from 247 precincts out of 237 in the state showed 14,883 for Lenroot and 13,075 for Thompson. These precincts included seventy-six from Milwaukee county.

Returns from 133 precincts for the Republican gubernatorial nomination gave: Wilcox, 7,328; Blaine, 6,435; Seaman, 3,847; Merrill, 147; Black River Falls, 2,767; Edward F. Dithmar of Baraboo, 1,575; and J. N. Tittmeyer of Omro, 1,053. These returns were from twenty-four of the seventy counties.

In the Bergh District.

William H. Stafford of Milwaukee polled 3,549 votes in forty-seven precincts for the Republican nomination for congress in the Fifth district, against 1,602 for Gerhard A. Zading, and 1,454 for P. F. Leuch. The winner of this contest will oppose Victor L. Berger, Socialist, in the November election.

The vote cast at the primary is declared to be the largest of any primary in the history of the state, owing to the part taken in the contest by women voters. Estimates place the increase at between 20 and 30 per cent.

The polls closed at 3 o'clock central standard time, and, owing to the multiplicity of candidates, returns were slow coming in.

MOSES IS VICTOR

Manchester, N. H., Sept. 8, 1 a. m.—The re-nomination of United States Senator George H. Moses, Republican, in yesterday's state primary was conceded early today by his opponent, Huntley M. Spaulding, on the face of unofficial returns from nearly two-thirds of the state.

Returns from 181 out of 294 precincts in the state gave: Moses, 18,181; Spaulding, 14,157.

Returns from the same precincts for the Republican nomination for governor showed Albert O. Brown leading Windsor P. Goodnow and Arthur P. Morrill. The vote was: Brown, 11,095; Goodnow, 9,859; Morrill, 7,155.

BRYAN SETS 'EM UP TO NEWSPAPER BOYS—BUT IT'S GRAPE JUICE!

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7.—[Special.]—William Jennings Bryan, preparatory to the formal opening of his campaign to elect him to congress, today walked into what once was a well known saloon and bought grape juice for himself and several newspaper men.

Meeting the newspaper men on the street, he asked them into the quadrum saloon and said: "Well, I can now ask you to have a drink in this place."

"That sounds familiar," said one.

"But the taste may not be," Mr. Bryan retorted.

"Well, what will you have?" asked Mr. Bryan, apparently familiar with the language of the barroom.

"Out of respect to the host, I think we should try grape juice," observed one of the guests.

Grape juice it was, and as Mr. Bryan was slipping it with gusto he said:

"It has not enough bite in it for me. Bartender, make me a ginger ale grape highball."

Then Mr. Bryan told how he happened to serve grape juice at dinners he gave while secretary of state. He said that he informed President Wilson that he would not serve wines at official functions and if he was expected to do so he could not accept the position as secretary of state.

"Use your own judgment in that matter," Mr. Bryan said the president answered.

FORMER SENATOR MURRAY CRANE SERIOUSLY ILL

Dalton, Mass., Sept. 7.—Announcement was made tonight that Former United States Senator W. Murray Crane was seriously ill at his home here.

For several days he has been confined to his bed, though it was said his condition was not considered alarming.

Sensor Crane suffered a collapse at Northampton when attending the exercises notifying Gov. Coolidge of his nomination as vice president, but rallied quickly. He was forced, however, to curtail his activities, although he maintained a directing influence in Republican party campaign policies until four days ago. He is 67 years old.

The senator's condition, it has been known for some time, has been such as to cause some anxiety on the part of his business and political friends, but no immediate concern was felt until he abandoned all activities and took to his bed.

PERJURY ACTION THREAT OF COX ENVOY AT QUIZ

Moore Will Invoke Law 'if They Lie.'

Gov. James M. Cox's case against the Republican national committee, which he charges is raising a $16,000,000 campaign fund "to purchase the presidency," was presented yesterday to the subcommittee of the United States senate which is investigating campaign expenditures.

It was brought to the city by Edmund H. Moore of Youngstown, O., who was the manager of the campaign which made Gov. Cox the Democratic candidate for president. He had been delegated by the governor to present all documents, "leads," and information which the governor possessed to the senators.

He brought them in a black leather bag which, when opened, proved a Pandora's box of troubles.

Threaten U. S. Prosecutions.

Out of it there popped threats of federal prosecutions against officers and agents of the Republican national committee, heated altercations between members of the subcommittee in which senatorial dignity was forgotten, and more or less sensational charges. But there was no evidence in it.

Mr. Moore frankly admitted that as soon as he took the witness stand with the black bag on his knee. He told the committee that he had no first hand evidence of any kind—that all he could do and all that he proposed to do was to furnish "leads"—to give the names of men who knew or ought to know about the manner in which the Republican campaign fund was raised.

He furnished bulletins and circulars sent out from Republican headquarters. It was up to the subcommittee, he declared, to summon the men he named as witnesses, to have the circulars and bulletins identified as official documents and legal exhibits.

Dedant Toward Committee.

Mr. Moore followed this statement with a defiance of the committee. Among the first questions asked of him was whether he had done in an interview that the committee was not seeking evidence but trying to suppress evidence.

"I said you were not seeking the best evidence and never have been to date," he told Chairman Kenyon.

"Did you say 'if they want to they can get the men boys who can prove the falsity or truth of the Cox charges in forty-eight hours'?" asked the senator.

"I think that is true. I said it. If I didn't say it, I say it now," replied Mr. Moore.

Frequent Clashes Follow.

From that time on there were frequent clashes between the senators and the witness, and the senators themselves. The division of the subcommittee was on strictly partisan lines.

Sensor Spencer of Missouri was the aggressive Republican. Senator Kenyon of Iowa the passive one. Senator Reed of Missouri did the fighting for the Democratic cause. Senator Pomeroy of Ohio siding only occasionally.

Each side accused the other of making campaign speeches. The Democrats on the committee charged that the Republican members were trying to suppress evidence. The Republicans insisted that the witness and Gov. Cox had no evidence to present and were trying to force the subcommittee to engage in a "wild goose chase" for it, calling numerous witnesses thousands of miles from their business at a great expense to the government.

What Mr. Moore insisted they do.

"What I want prepared to prove is that plans were made to raise a campaign fund not of $15,000,000, but of $16,000,000," he announced. "For that purpose quotas were levied on every community north of the Mason and Dixon line and in the district south of the Mason and Dixon line."

"I can also offer you the names of those persons who will prove that large amounts in furtherance of this plan were raised, that my friend Mr. Upham was either improperly reported, or else that he has got a bad system of book-keeping; that in certain states he testified to amounts that are entirely wrong."

U.S. WILL HELP MEXICO IF THEY WILL CARRY ON

Neighbor's Future Now in Hands of Obregon.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 7.—(Special.)—If Gen. Alvaro Obregon, newly elected Mexican president, succeeds in maintaining order and makes good his expressed desire for American cooperation, the next American administration, whether Republican or Democratic, will be called upon to display a high order of statesmanship in promoting the rehabilitation of Mexico.

Gen. Obregon has been quoted as saying that when he is inaugurated on Dec. 1 next he will seek loans from American financiers for reconstruction purposes and other American assistance to revive and increase production of Mexico's natural wealth.

Mexican spokesmen here declare that all elements in Mexico are satisfied with the De la Huerta administration, and that Gen. Obregon will find public affairs more nearly normal when he is inaugurated into office than they have been in the last eight or ten years.

Industries Waking Up.

Those that were compelled to close during the revolution are opening up, and in a few months, it is predicted, all will again be in operation. Other industries also are being rehabilitated, and there is said to be only one active rebel, Zamora, in Jalisco, whose early capture or capture is regarded as certain.

Mexicans here are hopeful that the state department will extend recognition to the De la Huerta government, setting that there has been no lapse of the constitutional regime, and that the change of government has taken place under the circumstances, on the contrary, paralleling those when President McKinley was assassinated.

In America, they assert, the vice president became president, and in Mexico the constitution provided that the congress should meet and elect a new president, the course that was actually followed.

Vast Claims Pending.

Among the outstanding questions between Mexico and the United States is that of claims for damages suffered by American nationals during the years of revolutionary disturbances in Mexico. These are reported to run into the hundreds of millions of dollars.

It is believed that the settlement of these claims will run through a period of years and that the initial steps toward a liquidation of them will be a settlement upon principles between the two governments.

After such an agreement, it is suggested, a joint commission to investigate the claims will be created, which will report its findings to both governments. The state department is said to have on file many hundreds of claims, and the total amount of damages asked for is estimated to be between $50,000,000 and $1,000,000,000.

Relations Up to Mexico.

There is reason to believe that if the Obregon government undertakes to conciliate the United States, to remove friction, and frankly approach the questions at issue between the two governments, the state department will not discourage loans to Mexico by American bankers.

It is certain, however, that before any real encouragement is given to American financiers to assist Mexico, that country must afford assurance that the revolutionary era is over and that the people genuinely desire peace and the restoration of law and order.

80 OF HAPSBURGS 'BROKE'; TAKING 'MENIAL' JOBS

GENEVA, Sept. 7.—Eighty members of the Hapsburg family are in great financial distress, former Empress Zita of Austria is said to be a visitor today in Prunig, where she and the former Emperor Charles are living.

Those who are "broke" chiefly are archdukes, archduchesses, and minor branches of the dynasty. Their incomes have stopped and they have also suffered great loss through the rate of exchange.

The exiles have been forced to seek employment in order to live, several archduchesses becoming governesses and others becoming maids. The archdukes are entering business as junior clerks.

Three Cheers for the Three R's!

Hundreds of pupils waiting for the Skinner school, Jackson boulevard and Aberdeen street, to open for the year join in cheering the school and its teachers as convincing evidence that they are strong for both. Just as soon as the school's doors opened yesterday regular classes were begun, a precedent that other city schools also helped to set.

And So to Study!

IT was all business with the 400,000 pupils of the public schools who went back to their studies yesterday morning.

For the first time in the history of the Chicago school system, classes were inaugurated on the opening day, with regular hours and full time instruction.

Especially was this the case at the Skinner school, Jackson boulevard and Aberdeen street. Many of the children appeared at the school doors long before the opening time, and as the teachers appeared for duty the pupils welcomed them with cheers. Caroline Litter acted as cheer leader.

CONTRACTS LET FOR GIANT GUNS OF WAR VESSELS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 7.—Award of additional contracts to complete the sixteen inch gun program required for farming the six 43,000 ton dreadnoughts and six battle cruisers now under construction was announced today by the navy department.

Contracts for six sixteen inch guns each were awarded the Midvale Steel company at $256,000 per gun, and the Bethlehem Steel company at $257,500 per gun.

With the Midvale and Bethlehem companies each having previously contracted to furnish twenty-four sixteen inch guns, in addition to those to be turned out by the naval gun factory at Washington, the contracts awarded today complete the program of 156 sixteen inch guns required for the great fighting ships now building.

The twelve warships will not be completed before the latter part of 1923.

Accidents Kill 105,000, Hurt 11,037,000 in Year

Every year 11,037,000 persons are hurt in various kinds of accidents, and 105,000 are killed. BRITISH PLOTS AGAINST FOCH IN WAR EXPOSED Haig and Robertson Delayed Victory, Charge.

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

LONDON, Sept. 7.—Remarkable disclosures of intrigue carried on against Marshal Foch by British Field Marshal Haig and Sir William Robertson, then chief of the British general staff, are made by Capt. Wright, late assistant secretary of the British Supreme war council, in an article in the current number of Blackwood's magazine.

According to Capt. Wright, both Robertson and Haig opposed the Foch supreme command and disapproved of his plan for a general reserve which was the key to his strategy and which resulted in the triumph which eventually won the war. Early in February, 1918, Marshal Foch, as head executive of the war board consisting of himself, Sir Henry Wilson, Gen. Tasker Hinde for the United States, and Gen. Cadorna for Italy worked out a scheme for a general reserve and planned a campaign involving the treatment of the allied line from France to Italy as one front. At the same time an effort was to be made to knock out the Turks in Palestine.

Secret Given Away.

On Feb. 11 Col. C. A. Repington, the military correspondent of the Morning Post, who was the recognized mouthpiece of the British war office, printed a detailed and accurate account of this decision. He even went so far as to quote, verbally, phrases used by Prime Minister Lloyd George at the meeting which finally sanctioned Foch's plan. This, Capt. Wright points out, revealed the plan to Gen. Ludendorff, and it was only through clever work on the part of the allies that the Germans were misled.

The next step, says Capt. Wright, was a meeting between Gen. Haig and Gen. Petain on Feb. 22, at which was arranged a different scheme of defense on the principal that each general was to act independently, but with the aid of the other if needed. The weakness of this plan was that the adding general would have to judge the necessity for and the extent of the assistance to be rendered. The minister circumstance of the plan is that, although the decision was made on Feb. 22, it was not communicated to the head of the war board until March 5, when it was too late to protest.

Lesson of Intrigue.

The March attack and the destruction of Gen. Gough's 5th army followed, says Capt. Wright, as a direct result of this treachery. It taught a much needed lesson, however, and Mr. Lloyd George and Sir Henry Wilson both insisted on the immediate appointment of Foch as generalissimo of the allied forces.

Capt. Wright also points out that the war could have been won a year earlier by a unified command. The Germans always were in inferior numbers to the allies and attained their successes only by application of the principle of a unified command, which enabled them to take the divided allies singly and to rush troops wherever they were required.

Numbers of Troops.

For instance, in December, 1917, the Total number of allied troops in all theaters of war was 5,400,000 to the Germans 5,200,000. At the same time the allies had more field and heavy guns on the western front. In February, 1918, the Germans in France numbered 1,256,000 men and 14,300 guns, while the allies had 1,554,000 men and 15,700 guns, and at the same time the Americans were beginning to pour in.

Capt. Wright pays high tribute to the genius and determination of Mr. Lloyd George, who, on the political side, was responsible with Foch, the soldier, for winning the war.

DRANK POISONED ALCOHOL, 5 U. S. EMPLOYEES DIE

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 7.—Five civilian employees of the government arsenal near this city, are dead and three more seriously ill as a result of drinking some form of poisonous alcohol.

Military authorities said they did not know whether the men brought their liquor in with them or drank some of the alcohol stored at the post for military purposes. The latter, they admitted, had been made deadly to deter soldiers from stealing and drinking it. A large quantity of alcohol for chemical uses is stored on the post, the military authorities said tonight. Quantities of this had been missed for some time, it is said by the authorities.

RUSSIAN WAIFS HEAR 'RED' CALL; HIDE IN NEW YORK

Escape from Benefactors at Staten Island.

New York, Sept. 7.—(Special.)—Soldiers Red Cross officials, and the police of Staten Island were searching the city tonight for fifty Russian boys, ranging in age from 7 to 16 years, who escaped from the Fort Wadsworth military reservation at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The boys were a part of the 840 Russian refugee children, brought to this country from Siberia by the Red Cross to be returned to their parents, relatives, and friends in Russia.

The escape was attributed to the activities of agents of the bolsheviks, who are alleged to have told the children that enemies of their native country purposed to embarrass them by sending them back to Russia through France, the bitter enemy of the soviet government.

Expect All to Be Taken.

All of the children are scheduled to be sent to France next Friday. It was declared by Red Cross officials that by that time all of the runaways will have been captured and returned to their quarters on the reservation.

All the youthful refugees were assembled on the parade ground at the reservation at noon, when several of the older boys, proposed that they make their escape.

About 100 of them moved over to the picket fence, about seven feet high, which surrounds the reservation. There is a tall wooden fence, about fifty feet outside of the picket fence, but the 100 boys managed to get over that with less trouble. Twenty minutes later their escape was discovered.

Armed guards and Red Cross nurses put out in pursuit, and half of them were caught before they got very far. But at least fifty of them got away. Word was sent to Stapleton, police station and the boys were sent to "post" huts. Twenty-five were caught at St. George and Stapleton, where they were attempting to board ferry boats for Manhattan.

On the ferry to the fort in the patrol wagons, the children became almost unmanageable. They spat in the faces of the policemen and the nurses and declared they never would go to France. They would not explain their actions, and were silent on the rumor that agents of the Reds were responsible for their rebellion.

The Russian children arrived in this city a week ago last Friday, after a trip through the Panama canal from San Francisco, where they had arrived on a Japanese steamship.

COX SEEKS BULL MOOSE VOTE IN ROOSEVELT BELT

Lauds Nonpartisan Plan in North Dakota.

BY ROBERT B. SMITH.

Minot, N. D., Sept. 2.—(Special).—Stumping across the broad Dakota wheat fields which used to be well peopled with Roosevelt supporters, Gov. Cox today sought to sow discord in the Republican ranks by rattling skeletons of the 1912 revolt. He told his crowds that the very men against whom Theodore Roosevelt led his insurrection in 1912, are back again in the saddle and that the only way for them to preserve the accomplishment of the Progressive movement is to vote the Democratic ticket this fall. He thrashed away at the "senatorial oligarchy" and "Boss Bill" Barnes of New York.

Gov. Cox's itinerary today carried him through the heart of the Nonpartisan league belt. He talked much of cooperative buying and drew some cheers.

Crowds Fair Sized.

The farmers were busy thrashing but at most of the towns where he stopped to make back platform speeches, the governor had fair sized crowds. He spoke first at Grand Forks. Later he made a speech at Devil's Lake, and then made a series of three-minute rear platform talks, winding up finally at Minot, almost on the border of the Canadian province of Saskatchewan. At Grand Forks, the governor, talking farming, asked the crowd:

"When do you have your first frost out here?"

"As soon as Harding arrives," a man shouted, and the crowd roared. The governor spoke in the highest praise of Roosevelt. "His courageous spirit no longer confronts the interests which he subdued eight years ago," he said of Roosevelt. "In consequence the same old crowd is back in the front line. Boss Barnes, who in Roosevelt's mind, was a Judas of the party, has been made its Saint Paul and has been designated to write the faith of the party for this campaign."

Tells of Barnes' Book. The governor read off a list of the contributors to the fund to publish Mr. Barnes' book and continued: "Large sums of money were pledged to Mr. Barnes by these interests to instruct the American electorate. That it was done with the knowledge and endorsement of Senator Harding, the candidate for these same interests, is shown by his letter directed personally to Mr. Barnes, in which he says: 'I do not hesitate to commend the undertaking which contemplates the presentation of the real gospel of Republicanism.'"

INDIANA FOR COX, DANIELS TELLS DEMOCRATS HERE

Claims G. O. P. Voters O. K. League Stand.

Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels spent a few hours in Chicago yesterday en route east after a speaking engagement at Connersville, Ind. Many political leaders from western headquarters in the Consumers building met the secretary, who told them Indiana looks like a Cox state.

"The trend in the state is tremendously our way," Mr. Daniels said. "Senator Watson is showing evident signs of losing strength, and I expect to see a senatorial victory for the Democrats, as well as the election of the Cox and Roosevelt electoral ticket."

"On the league of nations the Democrats are going to carry thousands of Republican votes. We will get tens of thousands of women's votes."

Secretary Daniels left last night for Maine, where he is booked for several speeches.

Hoynes Cites His Tax Collections.

The Hoynes-Igoe battle over the state's attorneyship continues the leading controversy among local Democrats. State's Attorney Hoynes, who is basing his campaign upon his record, yesterday issued figures showing that in the last seven years, the state's attorney's office has collected $3,437,000 of delinquent personal property taxes.

"And all this," said County Treasurer Gibbons, "is practically new revenue to the county. Under previous administrations, the prosecution of tax delinquents was perfunctory, and political pull figured largely. Since Mr. Hoynes has had charge, these cases have been prosecuted impartially, and to this fact the county owes an increase of revenue of about $4,000,000 in less than eight years."

The state's attorney's office, in the eight years Mr. Hoynes has been in office, has secured 103,602 convictions, according to figures compiled by attaches of the office.

Schwartz Talks for Igoe.

Michael I. Igoe, who is opposing Hoynes in the primaries, held a noon-day meeting at the Olympic theater, which was filled to overflowing. County Clerk Switzer was chief speaker.

"He is not a Democrat. That's why I am opposed to State's Attorney Hoynes for reelection," Mr. Switzer said. "Mr. Hoynes went outside the Democratic party five years ago when he supported Mayor Thompson in opposition to the regular nominee for mayor. At present he is without standing in the party. It is high time we put some one in the state's attorney's office who will serve the public, and not try to build up a personal machine for the purpose of fighting Democrats."

Polish Marathon Bears Message to President

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—Greetings to President Wilson from the Polish Falcons, meeting in Baltimore, were brought to the White House today by Polish relay runners. Forty-five runners, one to the mile, carried the message in turn and John Platak of Chicago was given the honor of making the last lap. He hopped up the White House steps out of breath and gave the message to an attendant who conveyed it to the president.

WILSON WALKS TO AUTO FIRST TIME SINCE SICKNESS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—President Wilson, without assistance, and leaning lightly on his cane, walked briskly through the front entrance of the White House today and stepped into his automobile, while a crowd in Pennsylvania avenue looked on with unusual interest.

It was the first time since his illness that the president had started on a motor trip by that route, all trips heretofore having started from the rear grounds.

The crowd increased and made a rush for the gate as the president's car approached. The president lifted his hat and smiled.

The president drove around town for an hour and then went to the Union station to meet his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, and returned with them to the White House. Around the station the crowds recognized the president and gave him a respectful greeting.

Skilled politicians in this state where politics is a daily thing, now say John Oglesby at four of the southern districts and they list only four ballistics he stands to Oglesby, the working man will best all of the candidates for office. This condition is necessary for the Union senatorship.

Oglesby is gaining. "If the primary were to be held," commented a Thompson Republican who has been a county by county trip, "Oglesby and the me with him would have a satisfactory, and the probabilities which also would have a lead McKinley."

OGLESBY SHOWS LARGE GAINS IN EGYPT COUNTIES

Negro Vote Balking at the Thompson Slate.

By E. O. PHILLIPS.
Carbondale, Ill., Sept. 7.—[Special.] Important and vital changes in the Republican primary contest are now being made by the party in the Egyptian counties. Counties that a week ago were admittedly bad from the point of view of the Oglesby management are now recognized to be balking rapidly into line for the anti-Thompson slate candidate.

Whereas politics is a daily proceeding, how say John Oglesby will carry the bulk of the southern congressional districts and they list only three or four candidates he stands to lose. With Oglesby, the working Republicans say, will beat all of the candidates for the state offices. This condition does not seem necessarily for the United States.

Oglesby is gaining. The primary were to be held to-day, commented a thoroughly informed Republican who has just finished a county by county trip through the Egyptian counties. Oglesby and the men running with him would have a satisfactory margin, and the probabilities are Col. Oglesby would have a lead over Mr. Thompson.

There is in progress, however, a decided swing to the entire anti-Thompson ticket that may swamp any candidate tied to Thompsonism, and in the week that intervenes until primary day it is a safe bet there will be gains for all of the anti-Thompson candidates.

Flying squadrons of Chicago Negroes have been skipping over the center of the Negro population, traveling in formidable names of alleged Republican organizations, and are being spread propaganda of the race war. The race has been particularly in the second ward of Chicago, by the city hall, the rumor held out that there will be a race war. The Negroes in the city politics if the Smith-Small ticket gets through the primaries of the election.

Better Class with Oglesby.

There has been a strong reaction to the style of campaign argument, however, on the part of the ministers and the better informed members of the Negro community, who are fully posted as to actual conditions, criminal and otherwise, in the second ward.

More Business, Less Mudslinging, in Politics

"This country is greater than its political leaders. Eventually business men must take an interest in politics," said John Fletcher, vice president of the Fort Dearborn National bank, at a banquet last night of the health and Accident Underwriters' association at the Hotel La Salle. "There would be less mudslinging in politics and more attention to the problems that concern the people. When labor has a dollar's worth of work for a day, your dollar will once more be a dollar's worth of goods."

Herewith is reproduced a sheet from a report of State Treasurer Sterling showing that Len Small, the Thompson Tammany candidate for governor, paid back to the state treasury $145,585.79 AFTER he became a candidate for governor. This sum was collected by Small while he was state treasurer. It represents a part of the interest on state funds in the custody of Small.

In the cities of the state as in the opinion of the treasurer are secure and which shall pay the highest rate of interest to the state for such deposits.

Under an act passed by the last general assembly, which becomes operative Feb. 1 next, the treasurer is required to "make a monthly report giving the amount paid by each such bank as interest on money so deposited."

How Small's Friend Views It.
A friend of Small gave the only explanation obtainable regarding the delay in turning over the $145,585.79. He said, "You will find that other treasurers have not paid in all the interest earned until after they went out of office, although the amount was not nearly so large."

The name of Len Small was mentioned for governor as early as last April, but apparently he made no final decision until June. It may surprise thousands of voters, but Mr. Small until June 30 last was an examiner of securities in the state treasurer's office.

He drew $500 a month, or $6,000 a year. He apparently drew his salary quarterly, because he appears to have collected $1,500 from the state on Jan. 6 last, the same amount on April 16, and the same amount on June 30.

LOWDEN HECKLER GETS THE AIR AT MEETING IN LOOP

"That's Mayor's Idea of Free Speech."

Gov. Frank O. Lowden, campaigning with Lieut. Gov. John G. Oglesby at a noon rally in the Colonial theater yesterday, was interrupted repeatedly by a heckler. The man was escorted to the door.

"That," said the governor, smiling, "is a sample of the free speech the Thompson-Lundin people have been felling about. They were terribly offended during the war because we would not let Victor Berger talk. I shall not be provoked into bandying epithets with anyone." The governor went on, speaking of the attacks of Mayor Thompson. "My administration will be secure in the history of this state when the poor, slanderous tongues now maligning it have been forgotten and are silent."

Raps Mayor's Platform.
There are two platforms before the people of Illinois today. One is that adopted by the national convention. The other is a strange compound of socialism and demagogism by which a group of men within the state is trying to supplant the Republican party. The Cook county platform, so called, advocates the confiscation of property. It seeks to arouse one of our people against another. In every life of it is a demagogic appeal to selfishness and to disorder.

Lieut. Gov. Oglesby last night carried his fight into the home ward of Fred Lundin, the thirty-third, a ball-wick which boasts more high paid city employees to the square mile than any other in Chicago.

State Treasury vs. Chicago's.
He asked his audience to compare the finances of Chicago under the Thompson-Tammany régime with those of the state under Gov. Lowden. The state had a net balance of more than $15,000,000 on July 1 and the city a deficit of about the same amount.

Betting Is Brisk on White House Stakes Winner

New York, Sept. 7.—[Special.]—Between $300,000 and $400,000 has been wagered in the financial district on the presidential election, mostly at 2 to 1 and 3 to 1 that Harding will win. There has, however, been a fair sprinkling of special bets that one of the other candidates will carry certain doubtful states. In such cases, odds materially different prevail. Of the total amount wagered it is said fully $100,000 has been supplied by one man, a Harding supporter. Democrats demand 3 to 1, while the Republicans believe 2 to 1 is a fair proposition.

Can You Sell Small Town Dealers a 100% Profit Proposition?

Can you—if you are backed by the biggest full-page advertising campaign ever put forward by a concern in our line?

Would you—if I could prove to you that you CAN make from $100 A YEAR to $1,000 PER MONTH on this proposition?

Our line has been on the market for years. It is an unusual money-maker for dealers. All we make are articles that farmers buy.

And—the farmer market is the big money market these days, friend.

If you like to sell to the small town dealer—or if you are just an alert, enterprising chap who has a knack for selling and knows the road, you and I better have a talk together.

If you own a car, so much the better—but it's not a necessity.

If you are a clean, ambitious man of between 25 and 45, you may be one of the men I want.

And if you are, your earnings will be limited only by your capacity to sell. Men on the job today on this proposition are making from $1,000.00 to $15,000.00 per year. Many of them never made over $2,000.00 per year at their old jobs. They simply never had the right job.

If you have the right salesmanship stuff in you, you will find our proposition very much to your liking.

If interested, visit 2d Floor, 331 West Ohio St., Chicago, and ask for Mr. Van Buren.

FOCH TELLS WHY GERMANS FAILED AT THE MARNE

Plan "Too Rigid" for Invasion of 1914.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
Copyright, 1920, By The Chicago Tribune.
PARIS, Sept. 2.—The German army of 1914 was a magnificent tool. Never again will Germany find another army of the same temper, Marshal Foch said in a three column interview in Petit Parisien this morning.

Marshal Foch credits Gen. Gallieni with the victory of the Marne, but compliments Marshal Joffre for his strategy.

The German chiefs, Gen. von Bulow, von Kluck, and von Hausen, contest our victory and, beaten ensemble, wish to appear individual victors. True, the German general staff chiefly was responsible for the defeat; the responsibility of the generals comes afterward.

German Plan Too Rigid.
"The Germans started with a preconceived rigid plan, unprepared for any deviation. Their orders after Charlot was to push the French with a sword at their backs, with Gen. von Kluck, outflanking our left."

"When Gen. von Kluck's forced marches were studied one is stupefied—they were extraordinary. Obsessed with the idea of enveloping the French left, Gen. von Kluck slipped toward Paris without looking out for Gen. Gallieni."

"Was Gen. von Kluck drawn by the gap, caused by the rapid retreat of the British left, between it and Franchot d'Esperey's troops?" Marshal Foch was asked.

"In war one does not see too far ahead," replied the marshal. "It is much more simple. Such gigantic maneuvers at such terrific speed could not be carried out perfectly. So just as everything seemed perfect von Kluck's flank was bitten by Gen. Gallieni."

German General Staff.
"There was one situation. The German general staff could tighten up its whole forces and take in hand the armies which were disconnected and missing in liaison. But what did the general staff do? It was at Luxembourg and did nothing and said nothing. Marshal Joffre was at Chantilly. The French headquarters were not in Mar-sailles."

BOYCOTT AGAINST POLICE.

BELFAST, Sept. 2.—The boycott against the police in the west and other parts of County Donegal is being vigorously enforced. In Duncannon, armed men visited the residents during the night and warned them that if they were caught speaking with members of the Irish constabulary they would be dealt with drastically.

Thomas MacGovern, for fifteen years chairman of the rural district council of Manor Hamilton, County Leitrim, was kidnapped by armed and masked men. The kidnapping is believed to be the result of MacGovern's refusal to cease trading with Belfast.

Three men concerned in the recent outrage against a woman because she continued to supply milk to the police were arrested by Irish volunteers, tried, and sentenced to two years' exile by a Sinn Féin court. They promptly left the country.

De Valera Cables.

New York, Sept. 2.—Eamon de Valera, president of the Irish republic, has sent a message to Father Dominic, chaplain to Lord Mayor Terence MacSwiney of Cork, reported dying from a hunger strike in Brixton prison, England, asking him to convey to Mayor MacSwiney the "official expression of the gratitude of the Irish nation."

Announcement also was made that in addition to the messages sent to

Prime Minister Lloyd George by Mayor Hyman of New York and the mayors of Boston, Worcester, and Jersey City, protesting against the imprisonment of Lord Mayor MacSwiney, messages have been sent by Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago, W. S. Fitzgerald of Cleveland, Col. J. J. Hayes of Vicksburg, Miss. Charles W. Jewett of Indianapolis, Mayor W. J. Stinson of Dallas, Texas, and the mayors of Anacosta, Mont., and Tulsa, Okla.

Cables of Another Toner.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 2.—Two cablegrams addressed to Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain and asking that appeals of Irish-Americans on behalf of Lord Mayor MacSwiney be ignored were sent from this city today by James Stanley White, editor of the United Protestant Advocate, and the Rev. E. M. McFadden, D. D., secretary of the International Protestant League.

Engagement Rings

The buying of an engagement ring is one of the happiest purchases a man ever makes, and it calls for the greatest care in selection. Not only must the stone be the finest obtainable for the money, but the setting should be one which will not be affected by the fads and fashions of future years.

The charm of beautiful diamonds cannot be adequately expressed. For many years they have been the accepted stones for engagement rings. The solitaire settings of today are of rare beauty and offer a great variety of choice.

Our firm has sold engagement rings for one hundred and twenty years. We are fortunate in having this background of experience to place at the disposal of the young men of today. We "knew" diamonds. We can judge quite accurately the setting which will please ten years from now.

We shall be glad to have you examine our rings. You will find the stones of good color, carefully cut and well mounted. The settings of our rings offer a wide range of choice.

TRAPS 5 ROBBERS UNHAILED; WINS TRIBUNE AWARD

Policeman Twice Defies Death to Do Duty.

When he captured five men speeding away in a stolen automobile on the night of Aug. 8, Motorcycle Policeman George A. Johnstone of the Lincoln park police drove his cycle where angels might well have feared to tread. For his bravery in pursuing and capturing the men, who had tried to kill him with the automobile, THE TRIBUNE awards Johnstone its $100 hero prize for August.

The policeman, in uniform, was riding west on Addison street just before midnight when a lightless automobile roared north on Claremont avenue, swerving at him as it passed and driving him into the curb.

"Why in hell didn't you get him?" Johnstone heard one of the men in the rear seat yell as the car shot by.

Wins Wild Auto Chase.
When Johnstone had had a minute to unscramble himself and his cycle he pursued the car north. For fifteen minutes the automobile and the motorcycle tore around corners, the driver of the car making fifteen turns in attempts to lose the policeman.

Finally, in attempting to gather speed after a turn at Roscoe street and Claremont avenue, the chauffeur of the bandit car choked his engine, and Johnstone caught up in time to see Max Percy, a Negro, pulling a revolver out of his side pocket. But Percy, John De Lorm, William Gross, Edgar Hare and William Raup, the occupants of the car, were covered by this time by Johnstone's revolver.

As Johnstone lined up his catch one of the men threw a $100 bill in the gutter. Hare and Gross were found to be soldiers A. W. O. L. from Camp Grant. Hare wore civilian attire over his uniform. Two more revolvers and three hammers were found in the car.

Victims Identify Robbers.
A few minutes later Frank Schmidt of 1913 Nelson street reported to the police that he had been robbed of $127 and a gold watch. He identified Hare and Percy as the men who "stuck him up," while the other three sat in the automobile a few feet away.

A check of the list of stolen automobiles showed that the car driven by the quintet was the property of John Kapose of 1121 Belden avenue, from whom it had been stolen.

Johnstone has been on the Lincoln park police force for eleven years. He is married and the father of two children. He has been commended several times for capturing lawbreakers and for rescuing persons near death in the lake.

3 Get Honorable Mention.
Honorable mention for acts of extraordinary bravery performed during August is awarded to the following:

forcing their car to collide with a wagon and finally "shooting it out" with the bandits, wounding one. Patrolman Weick was wounded in the left arm and several bullets passed through his clothes.

PATROLMAN CONNOR FLYNN, Fillmore street, for capturing four burglars who confessed robbing six drug stores of cigars, whiskey, and rubber goods.

PATROLMAN WILLIAM B. CASHMAN, Hyde Park, for his brave attempt to shoot a bandit who had sent a bullet within a half inch of his heart. Cashman had ordered the man to hold up his hands. When the policeman was within ten feet of him the man dropped his right hand, containing a revolver, and fired. Cashman dragged himself to a railing and fired at the fleeing bandit until his ammunition was gone. Before being taken to a hospital he supplied the police with the bandit's description.

Urges Award for McGurk.
Chief of Detectives Mooney had recommended that the award be given to the dependents of Detective Serg. Frank McGurk, who gave his life in defense of the $5,000 payroll of the Illinois Vinegar Manufacturing company, but in view of the fact that this business's McGurk fund reached nearly $2,000 the August award is made to Patrolman Johnstone.

FIVE CENT FARES MEAN LOW PAY, UNION MAN SAYS

Labor Official Warns of Peril in City Hall Plan.

Parts of organized labor are throwing away the horn and getting out the hammer for the Thompson-Lundin representations on public utilities. An argument that a 5 cent fare would mean a reduction of wages of traction employees to prewar levels is made by James P. O'Brien, recording secretary of the Track Layers' Construction and Repairmen's union, local No. 282, in a letter widely distributed by the anti-Tammany Republicans.

"If you believe in fair play," says Mr. O'Brien, "you will resent the misrepresentation William Hale Thompson and his administrator general, Fred Lundin, are making in regard to a 5 cent fare. They are trying to beg the issues to make it appear that, especially in Chicago, traction interests are absorbing all the increase."

"The facts are as follows: Prior to June, 1919, motormen and conductors were paid 48 cents an hour, having runs of nine to eleven hours a day. In June, 1919, the war labor board increased the hourly rate to 65 cents and reduced the hours to eight, with time and a half for overtime. That increase amounted to 35 per cent. This same increase was given all classes of employees.

"In June, 1920, a substantial increase was granted. It amounted to 23 per cent over that of 1919. So the total increase in wages since 1919 has been 58 per cent, with a reduction of hours of labor of 20 per cent. A 5 cent fare in Chicago can only be made possible through a reduction in wages to what they were prior to 1918. No workman should be deceived into voting for candidates who, to keep their word, must reduce the wages of employees."

Judge David F. Matchett, anti-trust candidate for state's attorney, ripped into the city hall machine at his meetings last night. "I shall not City Hall," he said, "for what does a platform amount to if the man who writes it is insincere?"

"What's the use of arguing principles with a man who six years ago pledged the United Societies he would not enforce the law and at the same time pledged the Prohibitionists he would enforce it? What's the use of talking about the platform of an official who obeys his oath of office only when he learns the grand jury is about to return an indictment; who promises if elected he will not build up a political machine and then turns the employees of the city over to Fred Lundin, who sends them from door to door to beg votes from their neighbors on the plea their jobs are at stake?"

"Why discuss public utilities with an official who, when a candidate, told you to keep your gas bills to collect rebates and then allows the cases in which your rights might have been determined to be thrown in court?"

"Why discuss principles with a city administration which sends out notices to boll the drinking water while its favored contractors are allowed to dump garbage into the lake? Why discuss profiteering with an administration which pays $137,650 in less than six months to one so-called expert?"

Col. Abel Davis, commander of the 133d regiment during the war, and now vice president of the Chicago Title and Trust company, issued the following statement on the candidacy of William B. McKinley for United States senator:

"I am intensely interested in the success of Mr. McKinley. He is badly needed in the senate of the United States at this time and I am unequalledly for him."

JURORS CHEER AS JUDGE ORDERS BASEBALL QUIZ

Hoynes to Co-operate in Sifting Scandal.

Members of the September grand jury cheered yesterday as Chief Justice Charles A. McDonald of the criminal court instructed them to investigate the alleged baseball scandal growing out of hints that there was a plot to "throw" last Tuesday's game between the Chicago club of the National league—the Cubs—and the Philadelphia team. In addition the jurors were instructed to delve into the operations of baseball pools.

Word of the chief justice's instructions quickly reached State's Attorney Hoynes, who immediately prepared to cooperate with Henry H. Brigham, president of the North American Car company, who was elected as foreman of the jury.

"Every resource of the state's attorney's office will be used to uncover and bring to justice the ring of professional gamblers whose operations threatened to besmirch the one great American popular sport," said Mr. Hoynes.

"If baseball is to fall into the hands of professional crooks and if the results of games can be controlled by these gamblers, the pastime will fall in popular esteem and may go the way of other popular sports of the past."

Says "Bribers" Won $50,000.

Judge McDonald's instructions read: "You have undoubtedly read accounts of the recent baseball scandal, which charge that a certain coterie of unscrupulous gamblers or bookmakers, for the purpose of watering and winning large sums of money, approached and bribed certain players composing the Chicago National league baseball club, commonly known as the Cubs, to 'throw' a certain game to the opposing team, the Philadelphia National league team—to be played thereafter on the 21st day of August, 1920, in the city of Chicago, with the result that the said game, when played, was won by the Philadelphia team and upwards of $50,000 was won by the alleged bribe givers."

"So widespread has popular interest become in the national game of baseball that vast sums of money have been expended by club owners in procuring players and maintaining exhibition grounds for the entertainment and accommodation of the public."

"Dig to the Bottom."

"In view of the foregoing the charges in question become a matter of public importance, which it is the duty of this grand jury to investigate thoroughly by every lawful means at its command, that the facts may be ascertained and made known, to the end that, if the charges made are found true, every man implicated in the infamous conspiracy be brought to speedy justice and exposed to public scorn.

"It has also been brought to my attention that pool selling on baseball games is being extensively carried on in this community, and that many boys employed about hotels and other public places are engaged to sell such pools on the commission basis. This pernicious business should be wiped out and the promoters thereof indicted and prosecuted."

Judge McDonald succeeded Judge Robert E. Crowe as chief justice of the criminal court yesterday.

Lifting the Lid

I WAS told yesterday that if I announced my price this Fall at $3.85, it would turn the hat industry upside down and inside out—but I'm going to lift the lid and take the consequences. I'm going to sell hats without profit this Fall, and give the final wallop to the High Cost of Living in the High Price of Hats.

The public has been on a "Buying Spree" for the last couple of years, but they're on a "Buying Strike" today. I'm going to break that strike by breaking the price of hats.

If you'll help me bring 100,000 new customers in my stores this month you'll see the High Price of Hats begin to tumble, and you can get under cover right now for $3.85.

I'd like to have the Flying Squadron of the Department of Justice investigate my Prices and Profits this Fall, and compare the Style and Quality of my hats with other hats selling for twice my price. If they don't stop me for underselling the market, you can have any new Fall color or style, any shape or size, in any soft hat or derby, at $3.85.

REDS MASS IN PRIPET MARSHES FOR A NEW DRIVE

Soviet Infantry 30 Miles from Lemberg.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, Sept. 7.—Fresh Red forces rapidly and secretly are being concentrated in the Pripet marshes, to be thrown in line for the renewed offensive.

Gen. Budenny is believed to be directing the new drive. It is not revealed whether it is aimed at Lublin or Lemberg.

The bolsheviks attacked with cavalry at the apex of the remnants which escaped following the Red defeat at Zamosc.

Red infantry is within thirty miles of Lemberg and still is advancing, as the Poles stripped that front for the Budenny attack northward.

Riga Parley in Peril.

The Polish foreign office advises the French foreign ministry that the Lithuanian aggression, in secret understanding with the soviet government, may break up the Riga conference.

The Poles are assured privately from Moscow the bolsheviks will grant the ethnic frontiers, will not interfere in internal Polish affairs, and will compromise in the Ukrainian question.

The Polish Socialists voted the Vilna and Grodno questions be settled with Lithuania direct and not to permit Russian interference.

REFUSES WRANGLER OFFER

BY PARKE BROWN.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

WARSAW, Sept. 7.—The Polish general staff has declined the proposal of Gen. Wrangel, Wrangel's chief of staff, for a joint offensive against the bolsheviks. Gen. Marakoff has just arrived in Warsaw, where he was sent to attempt to influence the Poles to extend aid to Wrangel's men.

The Poles pointed out that peace negotiations at Riga are imminent and that the allied attitude prevents the renewing of the campaign unless the soviet government refuses equitable terms.

WRANGLER MAKES HAUL

SEBASTOPOL, Sept. 7.—[By the Associated Press.]—The last two weeks in August were productive of a considerable harvest of prisoners and guns for the forces of Gen. Wrangel, the anti-bolshevik commander in South Russia, according to figures given out at his headquarters here. In the period from Aug. 16 to Aug. 31 his troops took prisoner 5,000 bolsheviks and captured twelve cannon and fifty-one machine guns.

Against the Wrangel forces the Russians are declared to be using all their reserves, arming even the students and drawing reinforcements from the Polish front.

Reds Claim Victory.

PARIS, Sept. 7.—The Russian soviet official statement from Moscow for Sept. 6 declares that Gen. Wrangel, who had assumed the offensive on the South Russian front, was repulsed by the soviet forces and that the Wrangel army sustained heavy losses, including three tanks.

Autopsy Leaves Unsolved Mystery of Rhine Death

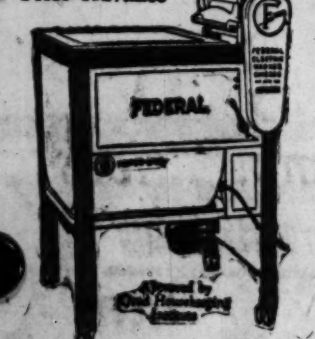

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] COBLENZ, Sept. 7.—The mystery of the death of Nathaniel F. Davis, the Duluth man found on the bank of the Rhine, still is unsolved. The autopsy yesterday showed he was drowned. He is believed to have been stunned and thrown into the river. There was a big attendance at the funeral today under the auspices of the American Legion.

AMATEUR SLEUTH IDENTIFIES MAN AS BLACKMAILER

Detective work performed by a relative of one of his intended victims led to the identification yesterday of Dominick Cinquemani, alias Frank LaBerto, of 2177 DeKalb street, as an alleged "blackhand" extortioner. The amateur sleuth is Anthony Lacava, 742 DeKoven street.

Blasco Carnevale, 2060 Kendall street, received a threatening letter telling him to deposit $2,000 in the viaduct subway at Taylor and Rockwell streets. Later a similar letter was received by Carnevale's brother-in-law, Frank Paladino, who owns and occupies the first floor of the house in which Carnevale lives. A conference of relatives was called and the police were notified.

Lacava suspected Cinquemani, whom he knew as LaBerto. He told LaBerto he wanted to join the blackhand. LaBerto, or Cinquemani, said it could be arranged for $20.

Paladino received another threatening letter. Members of the Paladino family fearing a bomb explosion, took turns on sentry duty each night. Early yesterday morning, Michael, one of Paladino's ten children, was on guard. He saw two men approach the frame building. His father rushed outside with a shotgun and captured one of the men, Cinquemani. His handwriting was found to be almost identical with that of the writer of the threatening letters.

WOMAN ASSERTS KING SHOWED HER HIS SECOND WILL

At the reopening of the hearing of the King will case yesterday, counsel for Mrs. Mary C. Melvin, sister of Mrs. Maude A. King, slain widow of the millionaire lumberman, introduced a new witness to prove their contention that the disputed second will is genuine.

The witness is Mrs. Nellie Dewey, 6104 Blackstone avenue, manager of the Fashion Millinery shop in Hyde Park. She asserted James C. King showed her the disputed document after she had loaned him a typewriter for its preparation.

Mrs. Dewey testified Mr. and Mrs. King sought her assistance in procuring certain mandarin coats from a Mr. Gabriel, in whose employ Mrs. Dewey had formerly been. She arranged for Mr. Gabriel to bring the coats to her home for the King's inspection.

Gabriel brought both the coats and a typewriter, which he left for several days with Mrs. Dewey. This machine, she testified, she loaned to Mr. King on a Sunday in October, 1905.

PARIS, Sept. 7.—A serious clash has taken place between rioters and Italian navy men at Trieste, according to reports reaching the French foreign office. Several rioters were killed. The rioters attacked the navy yard for the purpose of seizing the large amount of arms and munitions stored there. Throughout the rest of Italy the day has been calm. Thousands of workers are walking the streets of the principal cities, but there have been no demonstrations.

The Italian police began today, on orders of the Rome government, to collect the large amounts of arms which had been seized from the arsenals throughout the country. They are progressing successfully without opposition, it is said.

SHOTGUN MEANT FOR CHICKEN THIEVES FALLS, KILLS YOUTH

WORKERS GIVE ULTIMATUM

ROME, Sept. 7.—[Havas.]—The employers in metal factories which have been seized by workmen in the present contest over conditions in this industry have been given five days to comply with the workmen's demands, according to a resolution adopted by the Socialist members of the General Confederation of Labor. Should the employers fail to yield a rapid movement toward general nationalization is threatened.

Two Conferences Arranged.

Government officials will open negotiations with the general industrial conference at Milan on Thursday with a view to solving the problem. The Socialist group in parliament will hold a meeting with the governing committee of the General Workers' Confederation on Friday, and it is expected that at this gathering a policy will be adopted by the workers relative to the present anomalous condition of Italian industry.

It is estimated that 400 of the largest metal works in Italy have been occupied by mechanics and workers, and the movement is still expanding, threatening to extend to the extreme southern end of the peninsula.

Employees Blame Coal Shortage.

Manufacturers declare that the wage increase demanded by the 500,000 metal workers employed by them would add at least 1,000,000,000 lire to their pay roll, and that this burden could not be sustained. They point out that Italy pays eighteen times the pre-war price for coal, while England pays only three times, America only 3.5, France six, and even Germany only eleven.

As a result foreign production is replacing Italian. Wrought steel manufactured in France is selling in this country at a lower price than the Italian product, while wrought steel made in England costs less than it can be produced for in Italy, even without profit.

Music During Idleness.

In some plants near Turin the workers have broken open safes and taken money to pay the wages they claim are due them, says a dispatch to the Tribune. At the Fiat automobile works strong boxes have been rifled and documents and correspondence for many years have been taken, the newspaper says.

Answer "Biased Rumors."

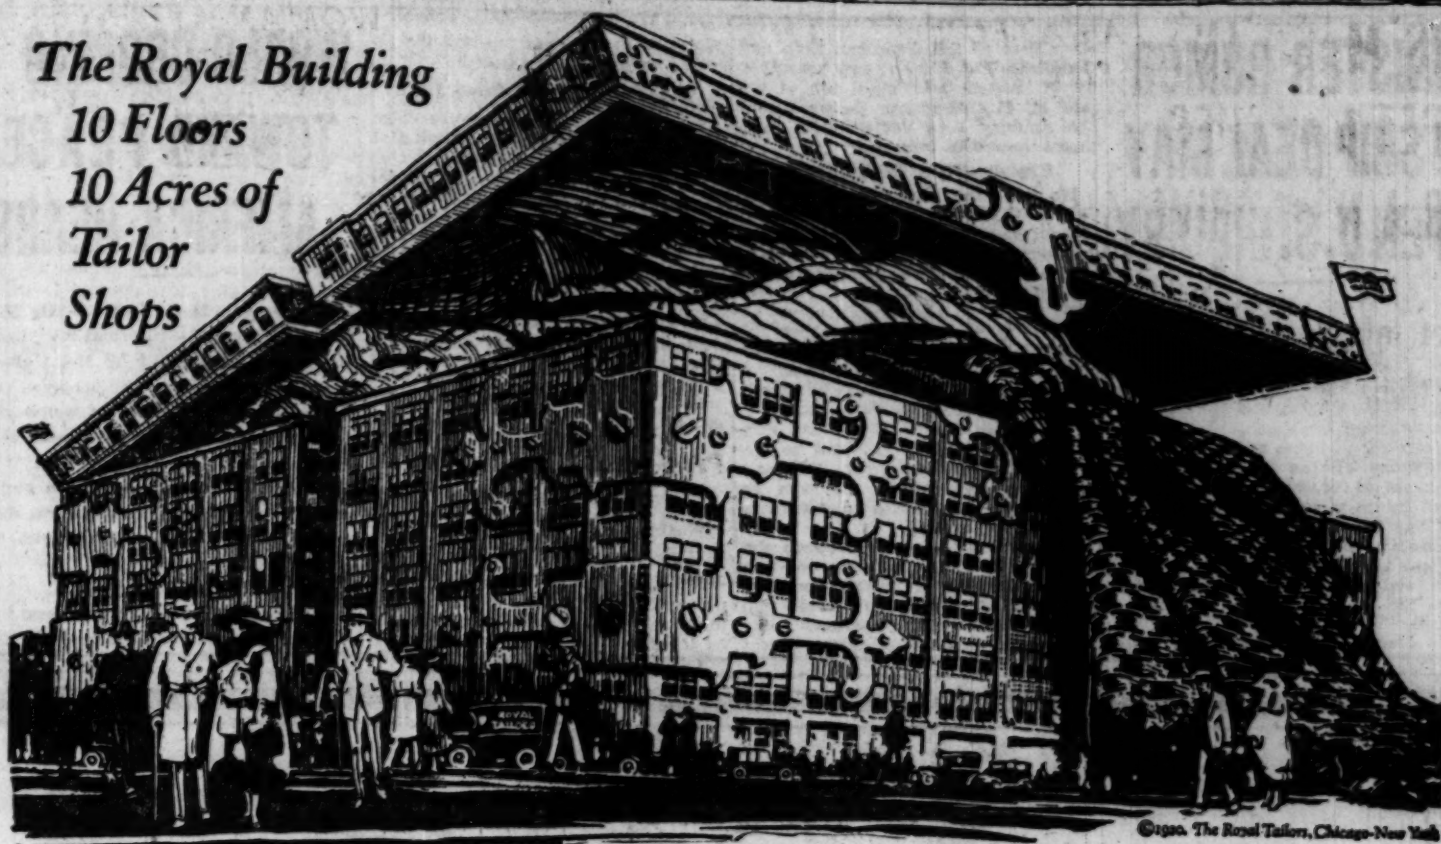

Positive contradiction of "biased rumors spread in foreign countries respecting the situation in Italy" is contained in a semi-official note issued this morning. The note adds:

"With the exception of the action of the metal workers, life is proceeding normally here. It is hoped we can find a settlement of this question, and even the workers' organizations are cooperating to this end. Premier Giolitti is still holidaying at Piedmont, and intends to go to Aix-les-Bains Sept. 13 (for his conference with Premier Millerand of France), and the king is at his summer residence in San Remo."

direct from our Manufacturing Tailor Shops
at Manufacturer's Prices

HERE'S the gladdest news that Chicago clothes buyers have had for many a day; delightfully surprising news, too.

Clothing merchants have been warning you frankly the past few weeks to prepare for higher clothes prices this Fall.

"We can't help it!" they've said. "These new Fall goods have cost us more—so we must charge more!"

But wait! Here's a chuckle for you.

Glance at the new Royal circle shown below; a jovial disc that discounts even the best prices of last Spring; your Uncle Royal Tiger's answer to the price question for the new season.

$40 for a genuine custom-tailored suit or overcoat, built to your special order in the new Fall goods—custom tailored; not ready made.

That's our circle of joy for most traders.

As round in savings as it is in shape.

A full moon of money-interest to the thrifty and alert.

If you have an eye for the beautiful and distinctive in fine custom-tailor fabrics and fashions come down here Wednesday to the first formal showing by America's largest tailoring house.

The man who pays an increased price for his clothes this Fall is doing so unnecessarily. Also, if he buys them ready made, he is doubly unfair to himself.

CORONER ORDERS WITNESS HUNT IN RHODES CASE

Coroner Peter M. Hoffman yesterday issued the conclusion, following a re-examination of the murder of Howard Rhodes, south side dry goods merchant on "Lovers' Lane," near Evans, that the whole truth about the murder has not yet been told by Mrs. Gladys Virginia Jacobson, companion of Rhodes at the time of the slaying. In talking with Matt Thelen, farmer eyewitness located by The Tribune, the coroner heard for the first time corroborative evidence that there were only two shots fired when the murder occurred. Both these shots, it is claimed, were from the same caliber of gun.

Immediately following the murder re-examination Coroner Hoffman went to Evanston. He ordered Chief Charles W. Leggett to send a motorcycle policeman for two miles up and down the roads near the scene of the crime and bring in every person who heard the shots or knows anything about the murder as a witness at the reopening of the inquest Saturday morning.

Meanwhile the state's attorney's office was digging further into details of the career of Richard Jacobson, husband of Rhodes' companion on the night of the tragedy.

Jacobson's brother, Frank, appeared at the state's attorney's office and promised to produce his brother any time he was wanted on an hour's notice. The state's attorney's office and Coroner Hoffman both had previously located Jacobson's whereabouts.

100,000 Miners Still Are Idle in Pennsylvania

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Sept. 7.—Contrary to general expectation, there was no general movement of anthracite mine workers back to work today. Reports from the entire hard coal regions indicate that at least 100,000 men are idle.

Coal company officials expressed the opinion there still is a movement back to work tomorrow.

TWO STRANGERS NEAR LAKE WHEN GIRL DROWNED

Pewaukee, Mich., Sept. 7.—[Special.]—Search for two well-dressed strangers who passed through Pewaukee last Wednesday evening was instituted today by officials probing the death of Miss Iva Birdall, whose body was recovered from Pewaukee lake Friday morning.

The two strangers accosted a school teacher, who has since left for her home in Missouri, the same evening. A coast guard, Karl Harvey, reported to the police yesterday he saw two men in a boat in the channel of Lake Michigan about 3:30 o'clock Thursday morning. The boat was found abandoned a mile up the beach. State's Attorney Earl G. Pugsley, who will reopen the inquest tomorrow, believes these two men waylaid Miss Birdall on her way home.

Daniel Leggett, arrested in Chicago at the request of Pewaukee authorities, has proved he left here early Wednesday morning. He was in South Bend, Ind., according to the chief of police of that city, when Miss Birdall disappeared. He will be brought here tomorrow, but probably will be released after a perfunctory questioning.

Find Unidentified Man in Lake Marine Emblem Clew

The body of an unidentified man about 40 years old was found in the lake at the foot of Oak street yesterday afternoon by Lincoln Park Police-man Delhanty. It was taken to the undertaking rooms of R. A. Allen at 359 North Clark street. No marks of violence were found. A marine emblem was engraved on the man's cuff links.

The body of a man found in the lake at the foot of Goethe street Sunday was identified as that of James E. Burke of White Bear Lake, Minn. It is believed he committed suicide.

SHIP STICKS IN BRIDGE OPENING. Traffic in Clark street was delayed several minutes yesterday and hundreds of curious spectators gathered at the bridge opening when the steamer W. H. Sawyer became lodged against the piling as it went up the Chicago river with a load of shingles. It was freed by a tug.

$200,000 BOND THEFT SOLVED; PLUNDER BURNED

New York, Sept. 7.—[Special.]—The mystery of the $200,000 worth of bonds stolen in New York recently has been solved, the police declare, by the arrest of a Negro named Joseph Starkey.

The bonds, which had been shipped from the Milwaukee branch office of Paine, Webber & Co., were taken from a mail wagon here, two weeks ago by a Negro driver of the name of James Johnson, also under arrest.

Starkey declared he and Johnson had burned the bonds. He also stated he had been rifling mail sacks for years.

What about the clothier who does the right thing?

YOU hear a lot about profiteering in clothing. Wherever it exists it can't be condemned too severely.

Something ought to be said, however, for the merchants who have been taking only a fair profit; merchants who have tried to help their customers meet high costs.

There are many such merchants.

They are meeting the situation fairly and squarely with nothing but good quality because they know it is economy.

When they couldn't get enough fine goods, they turned down sales rather than sell "cheap" stuff.

They cut their margins of profit in order to help relieve the strain of high prices.

They say to their customers, "Come back and get your money if you aren't satisfied."

We believe that the merchants who sell our clothes are doing everything they can to reduce costs for you. We think you ought to know it.

STRIKERS WANT MAYOR Hylan FOR MEDIATOR

B. R. T. Men Take Advice of W. D. Mahon.

New York, Sept. 7.—[Special.]—William D. Mahon, international president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, tonight called for the appointment of Mayor Hylan as the sole arbiter of the B. R. T. strike. The suggestion was put to nearly 4,000 strikers gathered in the Brooklyn labor lyceum and was carried unanimously.

"Instead of each side appointing a man and then selecting a third," said Mahon, "we are willing to select one man and leave to that one man the right to say how we will arbitrate, after he has examined and studied the facts of our case."

Regrets Hasty Strike.
"I regret that you were not more prudent and careful in going out on strike. You can get into strikes easily and I regret your impetuosity."

"The thing, however, has been done, the strike is here and the city is discommoded. Instead of talking about such things, both sides ought to get together and settle it. That's our proposition."

Here and there, during the meeting, men leaped up in the audience and tossed handfuls of pamphlets into the air. They were of the anarchistic type.

Mahon reached the hall after an extended conference in the Hotel Continental, at which the appointment of Mayor Hylan had been decided as a good move for the union.

Murder True Bills Sought.
Indictments for murder in the first degree are being sought against seven Brooklyn Rapid Transit strikers, who were arrested in connection with the stoning of two Sea Beach trains on the night of Aug. 31, resulting in the death of Frederick Friedman, 17 years old.

Meantime the companies are getting more trains and cars into service, and Receiver Garrison believes that by Wednesday noon, when his ultimatum expires, fully 85 per cent of the strikers will be back on the job.

REDS IN TRAIN PLOT FACE STATE AND U. S. TRIALS

State and federal warrants charging conspiracy, attempt to commit a felony, and counterfeiting will be filed today at Springfield, Ill., against the nineteen men arrested at the instance of Special Agent August H. Loula of the department of justice Sunday night.

Eight of the men have confessed to a plot to wreck the "Diamond Special," crack train of the Illinois Central, to slay and rob the passengers.

PLOT TO FREE 40 IN COUNTY JAIL IS FRUSTRATED

Warned of a plot to liberate the forty prisoners on the fourth tier of the county jail, including four men under sentence of death for murder, Chief Jailer George F. Lee yesterday put all the men in solitary confinement.

A number of clubs, knives, and saws were found in the cells. The plot is believed to have started last Friday, when Peter Rada, a guard on the fourth tier, was assaulted by the prisoners.

Rada was attacked by Clarence Brown, Frank Luby, Edward Brislane, under sentence of death for the murder of William Mills, and "Big Joe" Moran. Guards fought the prisoners back into their cells.

Meeting New Conditions

INITIATIVE AND RESPONSIBILITY: These are the words of the Government to the New York Central Lines and the other American railroads.

With the recent adjustment of wages and rates these lines face the future with determination and confidence in their ability to meet their transportation problems.

This is no small order. The New York Central Lines mean practically one-tenth of the railroads of America. Inevitably they share tremendously in the duties and responsibilities of the new period.

The New York Central Lines believe that at last the way is open to provide for the greatly increased transportation needs of the territory they serve.

As everyone knows, in the past few years, wages which the roads must pay their employees have more than doubled, and every other element in operating costs has mounted high. It was impossible for the roads to respond fully to the public need for transportation service without having their earning power increased to meet these costs.

The New York Central Lines welcome the opportunities for increased service made possible by their new earning power.

Because they are important arteries of a vast territory comprising about one-half the population of the United States, the New York Central Lines must build stronger for the future; so that in the years to come they can move every ton of coal necessary; so that there may be no lack of transportation in crop-moving time; so that the lines of passenger communication may be inviting and convenient.

Strong, well-managed properties with adequate earning power will command the confidence of investors, and larger investment will enable the New York Central Lines to render an ever-increasing public service.

YOU don't have to use as much of Calumet as you do of most other Baking Powders. Because it has more than the ordinary strength. You save about half on its use.

You don't have to pay a big price for Calumet. It's sold at a moderate price. It always has been. And that represents another saving.

You don't have to feel uncertain as to results. Baking never fails—because Calumet never falls below the proven standard of "Best by Test."

"BEST BY TEST"

It possesses the highest quality ever put into a Baking Powder. Contains only such ingredients as have been officially endorsed by United States Food Authorities.

For weeks, for months it keeps as fresh and full of strength as the day it left the Calumet Factories, the World's Largest, most Sanitary and Modern Baking Powder plants.

Every spoonful of every can is the same—pure and dependable. Try it.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Calumet Gold Cake Recipe
Yolks of 8 eggs, 1 1/4 cups of granulated sugar, 1/2 cup of water, 1/2 cup of butter, 2 1/2 cups pastry flour, 3 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, 1 tablespoon of vanilla. Then mix in regular way.

When Mrs. Housewife buys her sugar—her cereal—her coffee—or whatnot, she has a well-founded preference for those articles coming to her in air-tight, moisture-proof packages—products packaged at the factory, clean and fresh—untouched by human hands, uncontaminated by dust and dirt and the vermin to which bulk goods are always subjected.

But there is another very vital reason.

Packaged goods are better goods. Manufacturers do not put their name on an inferior product and Mrs. Modern Housewife knows this. She is demanding more and more to know who is back of the food she buys—who is responsible for its purity and quality.

In the near future manufacturers of hundreds of products not now packaged at the factory, will be forced to adopt this plan of merchandising because of popular demand.

To these, the pioneer manufacturers of automatic weighing and packaging machines, the Pneumatic Scale Corporation, Ltd., offers the fruit of its experience.

This company's machines are packaging 90% of the world's machine-packaged goods today. Whether your product be food stuffs or chemicals, or soap flakes or paints, there is a proven Pneumatic machine that will meet your requirements. Every Pneumatic system must fulfill its guarantee. Six of the nine municipal judges who are seeking another term are given a "should be re-elected" endorsement in a report which was presented to the Chicago Bar association yesterday by a special committee composed of seven former presidents of that organization. It deals with the qualifications of all Republican and Democratic candidates for judge of the Municipal court—seven to be nominated by each party Sept. 15.

Judge Samuel H. Trude, Rep.—Criticism is directed towards his lack of dignity on the bench; many reports indicate a creditable record and that he is deserving of reelection.

Judge Leo J. Doyle, Dem.—Has the experience and ability to qualify him, but reports indicate he is frequently tardy and absent from court.

CHICAGOAN MAY GET PLACE ON RESERVE BOARD

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7.—[Special.]—Some Chicago banker may be appointed to the federal reserve board as a result of the retirement of Henry A. Moehlenpach of Wisconsin. He was filling the unexpired term of F. A. Delano of Chicago, former president of the Wabash railroad.

Only one of the present members of the board is a Republican and the new member probably will be because of the conditions in the senate. The new member must be a banker, as the law requires that at least two of the members of the board must be bankers.

The new member will serve a ten year term, receive a salary of $12,000 a year and must give up all his banking connections.

AMERICAN, HELD FOR RANSOM, IS FREE AFTER FIGHT

Mexico City, Sept. 7.—[By the Associated Press.]—W. A. Gardiner, American, captured by Pedro Zamora, Jalisco bandit, on Aug. 2 at Cuale, has escaped, official advices say.

Gen. Enrique Estrada, commanding troops pursuing Zamora, reported he had been advised by Maj. Hedia Del Puerto, commander at Autlan, that an American, MacSwiney, had arrived and asked for an escort to bring Gardiner from a nearby ranch.

It was said Gardiner took refuge at this ranch following his escape from the bandits during the fight at Rancho Divisadero, more than a week ago. An escort was sent out for Gardiner.

Nothing is known as to the whereabouts of Bertie C. Johnson, a British subject, a fellow captive of Gardiner.

Why I Like This Bank

By a Woman Depositor—Name on Request

I take care of my husband's banking business, and thus have constant dealings with Foreman Bros. Banking Co.

I am busy. Ordinarily I like to conduct my business quickly, without talk. I can always do that there.

But there are other times when I need advice, and there I always get it. Also kindly help on matters with which I am not familiar.

I may come and go a dozen times without an interruption. But if I wish to telephone, and enter a public booth, someone is always at hand to invite me to a private office.

They shoulder all the little troubles which occur in banking business. I can never ask too much.

The atmosphere about the bank is friendly and attractive. Each visit is a pleasure.

I cannot see what one could ask or hope for in a bank which this bank doesn't offer.

I don't wonder that it grows.

American Woolen Company

TO THE PUBLIC:

The leadership in the woolen goods trade which has been attained by the American Woolen Company has naturally subjected it to a variety of attacks, most of which, outside of trade and political rivalry, have been based upon misunderstandings.

The size of the operations of the American Woolen Company—its large capital employed in the production of seventy varieties of cloth in ten thousand varieties of styles; its capital investment in fifty-seven mills and its employment of more than 40,000 mill workers—places it in the position of something more than a private corporation.

It has duties toward the national government, to whom it has paid more than $20,000,000 in taxes in a single year for more than 10% of the gross volume of its sales. The government should have reciprocal duties in protection of this American industry.

It has duties toward 15,000 people who own its $40,000,000 7% preferred shares—the first and only lien upon an investment estimated at above $150,000,000. These shareholders are not speculators; they are the backbone and sinew of our industrial life which must be based upon the savings of the people. When money is easy, these shares sell at 10% premium. When money rules as at present at high interest rates, they sell at 5@10% discount from their issue price of $100 per share.

The American Woolen Company has duties toward the 3000 owners of its common shares—formerly $20,000,000, but recently expanded by the issue of $20,000,000 additional stock for new working capital. This stock was offered to shareholders at par, was underwritten at 5% commission by a syndicate of bankers and capitalists, and is now quoted at 20% discount from par, although every share represents an equity value above the preferred shares of more than $200 per share.

The American Woolen Company has duties toward its faithful employees which rank ahead of its obligations to its ordinary shareholders and are co-equal with the interests of its preferred shareholders. All are dependent, more or less, for their living and their livelihood upon wise and just management in the conduct of this great enterprise.

The American Woolen Company aims to recognize its manifold duties to the public, not only in the production of the best woolen goods American enterprise can produce and in the meeting of honest competition in free and open American markets, but in the maintenance, so far as possible, of steady employment for its employees. It recognizes that upon this steady employment depends the welfare of the cities and towns in which its mills are located.

To carry out these manifold duties it must aim toward steadiness in prices and fair values for its goods; for its wool purchased and for its labor employed. It must avoid, so far as possible, the purchase of wool at boom prices and it must be forehanded in the use of its capital in the purchase of wool in times of liberal supply.

It must aim to hold its skilled labor organization with the fewest possible changes. It therefore pays the highest wages and gives the steadiest employment, so far as it is supported by the public in the purchase of its goods.

To manufacture and accumulate a stock of goods when the public refuses to purchase is only to invite disaster in markets and prices, reacting in the end upon our employees and the savings that furnish the capital. Such a policy continued would only result in prolonged depression, disorganizing all the forces of both labor and capital which must jointly support this enterprise in its service to the public.

The company must manufacture according to orders either on its books or clearly foreseen. Early in this year the company had on its books sufficient orders to insure employment for six months.

Labor was in universal demand and prices of wool and woolen goods were at the highest seen since this company was organized. To maintain our organization and insure the fulfillment of our contracts another advance in wages of 15% was announced to our employees in May.

With the advance in the money rate and increasing restrictions to credit, cancellations began to come in; but for some time they were no more than might be expected and not larger in volume than had been seen in pre-war times without making disturbance in the industry.

When, however, on May 26th, the government brought indictments against this company for prices charged for its goods in open and competitive markets, it was notice to the trade by the government that the prices for woolen cloth must be reduced. Although the indictments were dismissed by the court of first jurisdiction on June 11th, cancellation of orders became universal over the country. Total cancellations based upon figures collected by the government are estimated for the whole trade at the entire annual output of the American Woolen Company.

The total cancellation of orders upon the books of the American Woolen Company amounted to more than $40,000,000, or sufficient to give employment for two months to all our workers.

To have continued to manufacture and accumulate unsalable goods would have been not only financial suicide, but would have insured a depression in the entire woolen industry from which it would have taken many weeks, if not months, to recover by universal shutdowns with widespread disorganization and unemployment.

Therefore instead of the usual two weeks' vacation in August, the mills were shut down on July 10th, which was fortunately the best season for a two months' vacation. Had the shutdown been forced in the winter season, as it would have been by continued accumulation of goods, there might have been, with high prices and famine conditions for fuel, some personal suffering.

To September 1st, however, there has been less call upon the company and the public authorities for personal assistance than in the preceding year, when there was only a two weeks' vacation. The reason for this wholesome condition in our mill communities was the large volume of wages paid the past year—a sum exceeding anything ever before known in the American woolen industry. Yet the average wage is not higher than that in other skilled trades entering into the cost of living.

We believe in good wages for the American skilled workingman the highest wages that expenditure by wage earners themselves will justify. The makers of goods are the consumers of goods in this country. Prices must depend upon wages and consumption.

The American Woolen Company will be a success only so far as it is fair and just to the capital and the labor which it employs and to the public which it serves.

If you believe in the policy of the American Woolen Company in the maintenance of good wages for skilled workmen, order your goods promptly this season, and if you carefully select your woolen cloth according to your needs, you will find in the American Woolen Company production such a variety as will make it unnecessary for you to invite foreign importations.

The American Woolen Company begins its exhibit to the trade Thursday, September 9th, and will begin the starting up of its mills Monday, September 13th.

The wage scale will be the same as when the mills were forced to close in July.

The support of the public in the prompt purchase of the goods of the American Woolen Company is invited.

WILLIAM M. WOOD, President

HARDING VISITS FORT SHERIDAN AND DEERFIELD

Has Good Time with Crowd at North Shore Village.

Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican candidate for the presidency, passed through Chicago yesterday, spent a few hours as the guest of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood at Fort Sheridan, and passed in Deerfield for a brief visit to the North Shore village before boarding his special train for St. Paul, where he speaks at the Minnesota state fair tonight on agricultural topics.

It was the senator's first visit to Chicago since his nomination last June. He could hardly be called a visit, as only a few citizens recognized him. It had been planned to have him leave the train at the Englewood station, and a large crowd jammed the station and adjacent streets. But the plans were changed, and the special train did not stop until it reached the Dearborn station at 2:30 o'clock. Only a few persons were gathered there.

Greeted by Gen. Wood. The senator's party were met by Gen. Wood, chairman of the Republican speakers' bureau; Mrs. Wood, chairman of the Republican national committee; and a few newsmen. Only a few persons recognized the presidential nominee as he sped through the loop. After a brief rest at the Wood residence, Senator Harding visited Fort Sheridan hospital, shook the hands of several hundred wounded soldiers, passed from bed to bed, and spoke a few words of sympathy and cheer to each. He then drove to Deerfield, where he found himself at home among villagers, who crowded about him to show him their babies. Plans had been hung across the road and the school children presented the candidate and Mrs. Harding with bunches of wild flowers. Senator Harding spoke for a few moments of tolerance, respect for law and order, lack of class feeling, and the zeal to get ahead in the world by work and play. He closed the talk with an emphatic assertion that America's destiny was too fine a thing to be entrusted to the control of any save Americans. When he had finished he got down from the platform, mingled with the crowd, and shook the hands of the people as he held their babies aloft.

Brief Speech in Indiana. Senator Harding had made only one brief stop on his first trip out of Ohio since the campaign started. That was at Huntington, Ind., where the train made a brief stop. Assuming he was speaking to railroad employees, he said he had voted for the Enoch Cunniff bill because he believed it was one of the most beneficial pieces of legislation ever entered on the statute books of the nation. He pointed out the two guarantees on the return of the railroads to the owners, the guarantee of 5% per cent earnings to the roads during the six months' transition period, and the guarantee to the employees there should be no diminution of wages during the same period.

"But that is not the big thing," he said. "The big thing in the bill is that the government has written labor's bill of rights, so that the labor shall have instant, exact, and ample justice in public service. And I tell you, men and women, that is the greatest forward step taken by any government in the world—instant, exact justice, upon which our whole civilization is founded. I hope and believe it leads the way to the ultimate solution of all industrial conflicts."

IF SHE WEDS BY SPRING SHE GETS RICHES—PERHAPS

Miss Helen Fairfield will consider matrimony. She lives with her mother, Mrs. Carrie W. Fairfield, at 1412 East Sixty-third place. To report yesterday she explained: "My grandfather, Charles W. Fairfield of Fort Wayne, Ind., died in 1917. His will stipulates that I shall receive the major portion of his estate if I marry before I am 21 years old. If I don't marry, I have until May 21, 1921, to obtain it—a few days more than seven months. I don't care to state the amount of the legacy. I am not engaged. I have many beaux, but none I would consider as a husband."

A telephone call to the Fort Wayne correspondent of THE TRIBUNE disclosed that Mrs. Emma Fairfield, 86 years old widow of Helen's grandfather, was living at 468 East Pontiac street here. She said: "There's no proviso about her marrying that I know of. Anybody who bequeathed the entire estate in value is about $15,000. And it is mine by the terms of the will until I die. Then it goes to Helen."

She Spent Her $60 on Her Cabaret Tour

Victor Lichtig, a traveling salesman, married Miss Marion Harris of 2740 Van Buren street to go cabaret-touring with him. Miss Harris says Lichtig obtained $60 from her purse before the evening's festivities hardly had begun. She supposed it was a sort of loan. But when she asked Lichtig for the money he said: "Why, you've got as much fun out of it as I did, haven't you?" Miss Harris had him arrested last night.

"THE WONDERFUL THING"

MISS JEANNE EAGELS
in "The Wonderful Thing."
(Moffett Photo.)

BY SHEPPARD BUTLER.
MISS JEANNE EAGELS' present experiment in the adventure of seeing one's name in the electric lights is not made under the happiest of auspices. Her play, "The Wonderful Thing," is a well-intentioned affair, and has its moments, but it has also a tendency to develop its theme in a somewhat disjointed fashion, and there are, one suspects, rather too many spots where a good deal of talk is provided in place of the finest action which seems to be indicated.

All of which is rather too bad, for Miss Eagels is a piquant person of airy blondeness and many pretty ways, and, as you may have had occasion to observe, she can act.

She does so in this instance, undertaking the not too easy task of being emotional and appealing through a broad exotic accent. This she assumes in the role of a French girl set down in the midst of an English family, poor but proud, as the wife of one of its members. Eagerly seeking the affection of her new relatives, she is repulsed by the more austere of them because of her fortune, made by her father, who is something in hams. Pollyanna-like, however, she makes the best of it, smiling in the face of rebuffs, planting the seeds of kindness, and quite happy because she is much in love.

Happy, that is, until the gambling house keeper, who has been blackmailing her husband, comes to her with his tawdry tale about her brother-in-law, a forged check, and threatened disgrace to the penniless family. This disgrace, she learns, was averted when the erring one's older brother announced his engagement to an heiress and his presumable ability to pay the required hush money. In a word, she has been wed, not for love, but to save the family honor.

Heartbroken, she finishes up her task of winning over the snobs and persuading them to accept her bounties. Then she goes, at sunset, to the unfinished house which was to have been her home, where, just in time for the final curtain, hubby appears, protests his new born love, and is somewhat unconvincingly forgiven.

That's the story, and it gives Miss Eagels the opportunity for a fetching little tour de force in contrasts. Through the earlier scenes she dances with an infectious grin, coquettish little squeals and grunts, and all the extravagant trickeries which, in the stage tradition, are permitted to those who play a Gallic role. When the blow comes, she crumples. It is good acting, though perhaps a bit overdone, and it makes you wish she had a better play.

The company is uneven. Miss Eva Leonard Boyne playing a minor role amusingly, and Gordon Ash enacting that of the husband with some skill but not much feeling. The rest are just so-so.

CHICAGO GIRLS IN BOYS' CLOTHES TAKEN BY POLICE

Two Chicago girls, who donned boys' clothes and started out with their sweethearts to see America via the brakebeam, were detained yesterday by the police at New Albany, Ky. The girls said they were Mildred Schwartz, daughter of Ross Schwartz, 1642 Park avenue, and Gladys Perry, 13 Hoyne avenue. Both are 15. The boys are William Wilbert Jr., 14 years old, and Louis Sanders, 20, both of Kenosha, Wis.

The four rode freight trains from Gary to New Albany. An engineer reported them to the New Albany police.

ACTORS STAR IN REAL THRILLS AT REVERE BLAZE

Animals, 'Props,' Fill Air;
Women Rescued.

North Clark street was treated to thirty minutes of dramatic action as rapid as any ever crowded into a stage or movie comedy, shortly after 7 o'clock last night when fire was discovered in the basement of the Revere house, one of the landmarks of the north side, long known as a theatrical hotel.

When the smoke cleared away the building owners checked up a loss of about $20,000. Clark street and Austin avenue were littered with musical instruments, cages containing trained animals, birds, and reptiles, and all sorts of queer theatrical "props," and the hotel manager discovered that numerous guests had taken advantage of the excitement to skip out, bag and baggage, leaving unpaid bills to be figured in with the fire loss.

Fled Down Fire Escapes. James Scott was chalking his cue in the Alex poolroom under the hotel when he smelled smoke. He turned in an alarm from in front of the Casino theater. James Garvin, hotel clerk, discovered the fire almost at the same time and sent four colored bellhops scurrying up the stairs ahead of clouds of smoke to warn the guests.

A moment later the fire-story hysteria began disgoring its 150 temperamental inhabitants via the stairways and fire escapes. Klomono clad women, clutching bird cages or clapping pet poodles, fled down the fire escapes in their slippery feet.

Kitty McCann paused to rescue her electric curling iron and fled from the fifth floor. Other women, in scanty costume, ran to the nearest fire escape. Attached from the state's attorney's office ran to witness the exodus and guards rushed through the county jail calming the inmates, who were alarmed by the smoke.

The first fireman to arrive began chopping holes in the floor of the pool hall to get at the flames, allowing dense clouds of smoke to roll upward through the hotel.

Black Lives for Pets. George Perrett, a musician, undaunted by the danger, rushed to the fifth floor and returned with a flowered and white bulldog.

Charles Prave staggered down stairs with an armful of saxophones. A fair-skinned chambermaid, with her hair in curl papers, rushed out in a flowered dressing gown, bearing a box containing her sleepy pets.

Three parrots added their screams to those of many women. One man reached the sidewalk with a curling iron.

Robert Eddy, an acrobat, found Baby Gurley wandering about in a wreath of roses on the second floor and carried her into Healy's drug store on the corner. A conference was held yesterday between the grievance committee and Gilbert P. Wood, agent for the building. Mr. Wood agreed to let the tenants meet and make an offer of what they considered fair rentals.

Agent Cancels Offer. The members of the grievance committee are George K. Reed, chairman; L. W. Meckstroth, D. H. Skeen, Vorley Wright, Frederick Biffar, and B. F. Blanton.

The tenants, elated, gathered last night to decide upon the offer when Mr. Wood notified them by phone that negotiations were off, as he had learned six of the twelve tenants whose leases expire this fall already had signed at the increased figure.

At the same time a committee of tenants at 1125 Farwell avenue, composed of G. C. Abbott, J. M. Woodruff and F. W. Sextro, was planning to fight the Rev. Frederick G. Ruff, owner of the building, and H. A. Tank, the agent, in the courts. The following sign was hung in the window of every apartment:

"Notice—This apartment is rented. Lease does not expire Oct. 1 as landlord claims. Don't be deceived by a landlord and buy into a lawsuit."

Live Stock Firms' Fight on Lever Act Up Today

Arguments on the petition of W. W. Wilson & company, live stock commission merchants, asking that the government be permanently restrained from revoking their license to sell live stock or to prosecute them under the Lever law for raising their rates in defiance of federal orders, will be heard before Federal Judge George T. Page today. A temporary restraining order was granted last Tuesday.

SOMEBODY IS ALWAYS TAKING THE JOY OUT OF LIFE

AGENT AGREES TO ARBITRATE RENT, BUT CALLS IT OFF

Tenants Then Vote to Fight to Finish.

Campaigns against two alleged profiteering landlords were mapped out by angry tenants last night.

Sixty of the eighty-four tenants of the Pattington apartments, at 400 Irving Park boulevard, members of the Pattington Tenants' association, met in the Laura Dean tearoom at Broadway and Sheridan road, and pledged themselves not to sign any lease until it had been approved by the grievance committee of the association.

The rents were raised in 1919 from $65 to $150; $75 to $167.50, and from $85 to $220. Facing further increases this fall, a conference was held yesterday between the grievance committee and Gilbert P. Wood, agent for the building. Mr. Wood agreed to let the tenants meet and make an offer of what they considered fair rentals.

Agent Cancels Offer. The members of the grievance committee are George K. Reed, chairman; L. W. Meckstroth, D. H. Skeen, Vorley Wright, Frederick Biffar, and B. F. Blanton.

"Notice—This apartment is rented. Lease does not expire Oct. 1 as landlord claims. Don't be deceived by a landlord and buy into a lawsuit."

Higher Rentals Now Asked. The tenants claim they signed a five months' lease on May 1 with the understanding the rents would not be increased again this year, and that now they have received notice they will have to sign a seven months' lease on Oct. 1 at a higher figure.

Ald. Robert J. Mulcahy, impatient at the failure of Gov. Lowden to reply to the city's appeal for a special session of the legislature to curb rent profiteering, announced that if no answer is received by tonight he will write the governor for a flat "yes" or "no" reply.

BEG YOUR PARDON!

THE TRIBUNE OF AUG. 19 referred to the Rev. Father T. J. O'Donnell of Tasmania as an advocate of "dominion home rule" for Ireland. Father O'Donnell is a supporter of the "Irish republic," not of "home rule."

In the issue of Sept. 4 it was stated that Edward Friedman was "howled down" by delegates of the American Legion when he attempted to make a speech before the convention defending Mayor Thompson. Mr. Friedman asserts that he did not attempt to defend the mayor, but that he wanted to defend Chicago, which, he says, is a patriotic city. Despite the actions of some of the officials, he also says that he was not "howled down." Instead he was heartily applauded, he asserts.

The arrival of Eleanor Phillips was by limousine, at the curb fronting the village hotel, the Melrose Park hotel, Nineteenth avenue and West Lake street. The liveried chauffeur honked, but neither bellboy nor porter appeared. There are none and the clerk was delivering ice water. The villagers began assembling.

She wore a sports frock, with a floppy hat. Her skirt was knee length, which made it difficult to surmise whether she was a subwoofer or a dowager. Hauteur blended with condescension as she alighted and gestured toward her portmanteau: "Chaufeur, you may carry that in."

Too Much Style. She went to the register and, with a goddess like flourish, wrote: "Eleanor Phillips, Motion Picture Actress." The clerk looked at her closely. He feared to question her, so he called the chief of police. Leonore came to earth. She said:

"Yes, I ran away from home. My father lives in Gary. I wanted to be a screen star. I know I've got it in me. I'm 12 years old. I was bound for Lee Angeles."

She had $750 in her purse. Now the chief is trying to find her parents.

Figures Clash on Yards Wages at U. S. Hearing. George Anderson, a pork trimmer employed by Swift & Co at South St. Paul, was the main witness introduced by the stockyard employees at the wage hearing yesterday before Federal Judge Samuel Alschuler. He was unable to give exact figures, but said his yearly salary was $1,600 and was insufficient to support him.

Figures were introduced by the packer showing that Anderson, a packer worker, had earned $58.09 weekly for four months. In one week he earned $106.49 for 66½ hours' work. He admitted this, but declared his average was only $32 a week.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

Today's Question. Asked of boys and girls from 10 to 14 years old. "What would you rather do than go to school?"

Where Asked. At the Skinner school, Aberdeen street and Jackson boulevard.

The Answers. Davina Kennedy, 236 South Morgan street—"I'd sooner go to school than anything else. I know of. I like to study, and I can have more fun with the girls in my room than I can have at home. Gee, I wish we had school all the time. I like it."

Evelyn Pratt, 420 South Sangamon street—"I'd sooner stay home and play with my dolls, or play house, or go to shows, or do anything but go to school. I like to play school, but I don't like to really and truly go to school."

Ethel Keating, 1240 Congress street—"I would rather stay home and help mamma with the housework. That's a whole lot better than going to school. I would stay home if I could work there's cows, and dogs, and all the housework, but mamma won't let me."

William Becker, 329 South Racine avenue—I would sooner be a bait boy for the White Sox. Then I would see all the games. Or I'd like to go out to the country and work on a farm where there's cows, and dogs, and pigs, and everything. It ain't any fun sitting in school all day.

Everett Weiss, 29 South Racine avenue—I'd sooner work—be a telegraph boy or an errand boy. O, I'd do anything if I could leave school, but I guess it can't be done. School ain't so very bad, but it would be a lot more fun working. Then, too, I could have more spending money.

22 LITTLE JOBS NET BURGLARS $30,000 IN WEEK

Day Adds 16 Robberies to City's Long List.

Last night's police bulletin contains accounts of sixteen highway robberies, two of which were coupled with assault, and in one of which the victim was shot in the leg.

During the last week burglars, the case knife man, the jimmy man, the porch climber, the step ladder man, the transom worker, and the panel expert have looted over 150 homes. This does not include the dozens of stores or the caches of liquor that were raided.

A list of twenty-two burglaries during the week, picked at random from reports in the Wabash avenue, Hyde Park, Grand Crossing, Town Hall, Southside, Rogers Park, Fillmore street and other police districts shows a loss approximating over $30,000.

Victims of Burglars. These are the twenty-two victims and their estimated losses in money, jewelry, silverware, furs, and other articles:

Allen Raush, 4730 Kenmore avenue, $500; B. H. Shapiro, 3234 Cornell avenue, $4,000; Helen Clum, 4861 Winthrop avenue, $250; D. S. Kauffman, 5434 South Park avenue, $500; Max Becker, 4745 Dresden boulevard, $700; J. E. Rubenstein, 1229 North Kedzie avenue, $300.

W. E. Sparrow, 5341 Kenmore avenue, $500; Mrs. Alex Schilman, Cooper-Carleton hotel, Hammond branch, $100; Dorr E. Felt, 423 Wellington avenue, head of the firm of Felt & Tarrant, $450; Frank Wilson, 7343 Calumet, $500; L. S. Mayer, 254 East Fifteenth street, $1,000; Charles Schmitt, 4711 1428 Broadway, $1,200; John J. O'Brien, 4007 West End avenue, $700.

George Fisher, 945 Argyle street, $1,500; L. S. Berkson, 5414 Michigan avenue, $1,200; Will Schmitt, 4711 Ingleside avenue, $2,000; L. Rüdiger, 7828 North Ashland avenue, $4,000; Henry Buschler, 6722 Charnell avenue, $1,500; Emma Schmitt, 4711 Ingleside avenue, $5,000, and H. C. Parker, 65 East Fifty-seventh street, $300.

High Lights in Day's Crime. Yesterday's crime annals were enlivened by a "Black Hand" bomb, a woman bound and gagged and robbed in her home, and the phony $5,000 letter demanding the front of Frank Calato's home at 1425 Byron street, but hurt nobody. He is a boom maker, 27½ years old, a white man and a Negro, who escaped with $80, a $50 Liberty bond, and a diamond ring. The white man had a gas inspector's uniform and badge No. 12.

The safe, which weighed 400 pounds, was removed from the Frolic theater at 551 East Fifty-fifth street. It contained $25,000. Six weeks ago a heavier safe containing $1,000 was stolen from the same theater.

William M. Overhue and Miss Mary McCauley had contracted to be married. Invitations had been sent out for the wedding, which was to be performed in St. Leo's Catholic church on Sept. 1. But on the night of Sept. 1, McCauley attended a pre-nuptial celebration and when he awoke in the morning after his head ached.

Then a strange thing happened. A woman awoke him by the shoulder and said: "Get up, hubby. Don't you know we were married last night?" The woman wasn't Miss McCauley. She was Mrs. Sarah Chaudeligh-Overhue, the mother of three children and 29 years older than Overhue.

All this is told by Overhue in a bill to annul the marriage which was filed by Charles W. Betteen, his attorney, yesterday. The priest, Mrs. Overhue obtained him for her husband by trickery, he charges.

GUN AT HIS HEAD, CITY AID FIGHTS TYPHOID PATIENT. A defective cartridge in a revolver held by a typhoid patient yesterday saved the life of Dr. Harry Rand of the Frolic hospital staff.

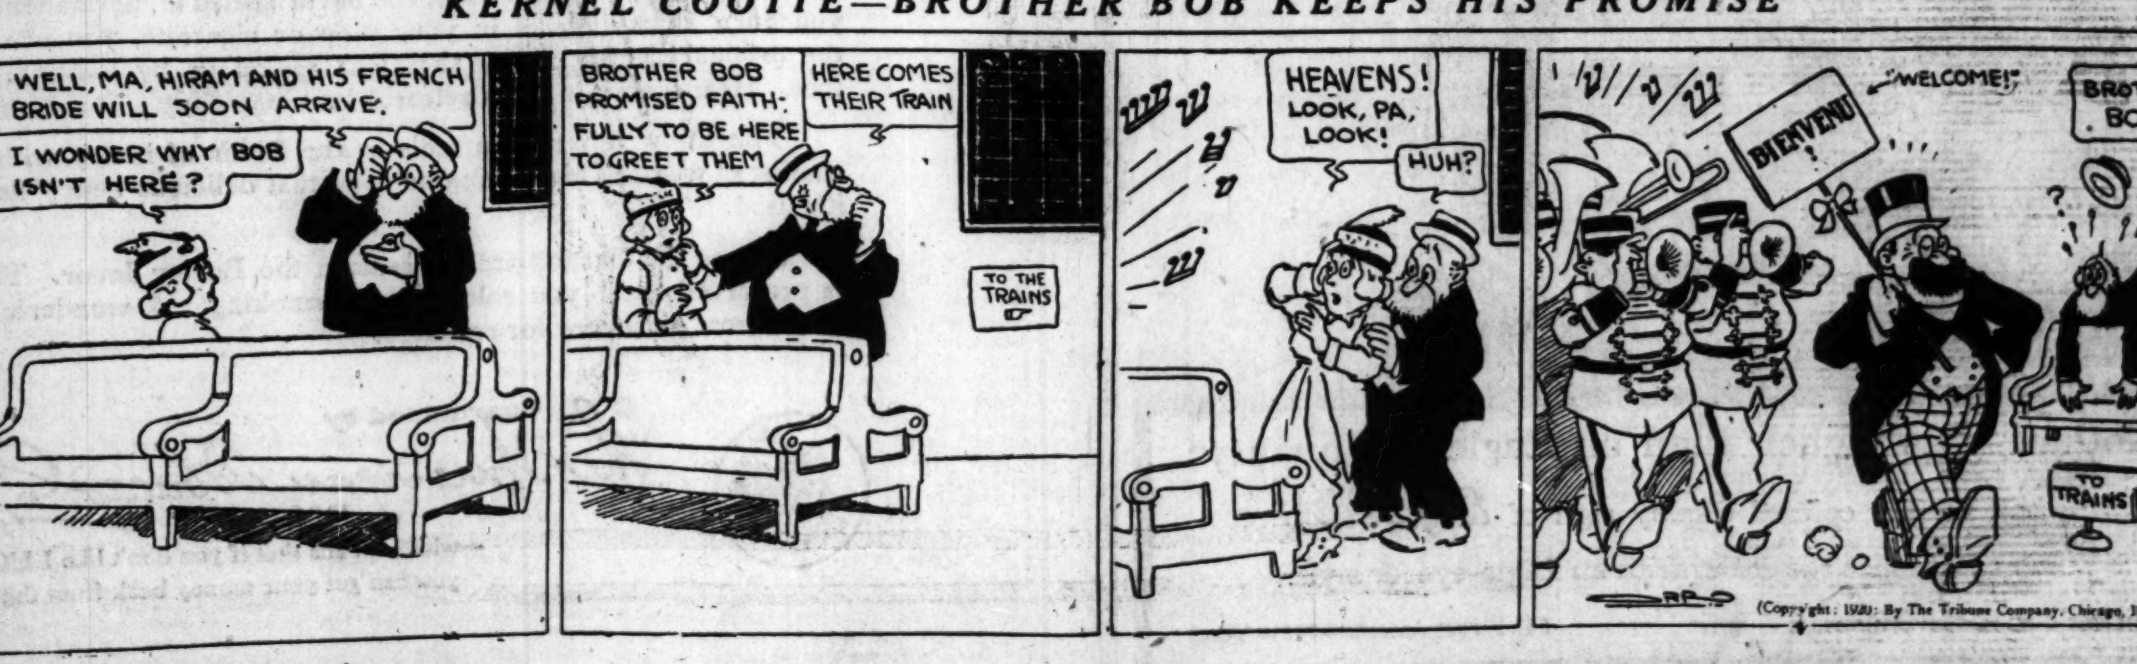

Health Commissioner Robertson had received a report that a typhoid patient at 1758 West Eighteenth street was menacing the health of the community through failure to obey regulations. Dr. Herman N. Bunnies assigned Dr. Rand to the case. Dr. Rand directed Steven Albinowski, the typhoid victim, to get ready for a trip to the county hospital.

Albinowski let out a yell and pressed a revolver against Dr. Rand's head, according to a report to Dr. Robertson. But the cartridge failed to explode, and before Albinowski could cock the gun Dr. Rand and his assistant had engaged him in a struggle, which brought the entire neighborhood and two policemen to the rescue.

Let the Workers Sing, Steel Engineer's Plea

A plea for the organization of singing societies in the business world to raise the morale of employees was made by Frank E. Morton, acoustic engineer for the American Steel and Wire company, yesterday before the Rotary club at the Hotel Sherman. One factory, he said, had been producing fifty automobiles a day. After choral work had been established the output jumped to fifty-five cars, although working hours had been cut forty-five minutes.

ISKE A COMMA DEMPSEY EPIC, SAYS HAMMOND

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

HAVING been ordered to Benton Harbor with instructions to lay eyes on the gladiators there, I excused myself from Mr. Hammilton's luncheon to W. L. George, the English novelist, and made my way to the shambles.
The journey was pursued with reluctance and misgivings, since, being a man and a Christian, who, according to the confessions of Augustus, was dragged to the amphitheater against his will, Alpius strove to quiet his conscience during the games by turning his back, but at an exciting crisis he looked and was lost. He grew frenzied with the sight of blood and he struggled again and again, knowing he could not abstain. The confessions further report that Alpius was happiest while at the ringside and that thereafter no special attention left Rome without Alpius shaved, his neck shaved, a La Meloda between his teeth, and a little beard, perhaps, hidden in the folds of his (red) toga.

As that Christian father fell, so induced to all of us. We sat, sweltering, in the thimble, as they called it in Benton Harbor, Monday afternoon, regarding ourselves with valorous feats by men, strong in the discipline of suffering and temperance. The "champ," as he was known to the sombre-voiced announcer, was in himself a grim, unshaven, cruel and only to be kind, he was a pleasing exhibition of cold brutality, his countenance as terrifying
as the map of a rattlesnake.
The high gift of courage showed out of the folds of his narrow eyes and in his attitude of chill indifference—a gift that was needed, since Mike, his adversary of the afternoon, had nothing at all the matter with him except a little spine disease.
The champion is no poseur. Yet he was an hour late in reaching the arena ground from his G. H. O., a kilometer or two away. For thirty minutes the punctual Mike sat in the hot sun waiting the arrival of Dempsey at the arena. Eventually, preceded by a waiting party of seconds and thirds, Dempsey ascended rather than climbed the scaffold—looking like Abhor-ham, the headman, and bearing the aid in his deathly left.
But many shouts welcomed the hero, and that lack of enthusiasm for one so of prowess was rather a strange thing. Dempsey has been seared by many slanderous tongues, but as 'tis said in Hamlet (I am told to be sure),
"To be or not to be, that is the question," and pure as snow, thou shalt not be calumniated. Dempsey has proved his grand jury that he was not a "chump." He simply did not go to war. And one is impelled to believe that that omission is no longer reason for not cheering. Even many of those who did go to the arena are now full of admiration for the man who showed enough to remain away. Mr. Annenberg, a student of such things, explained this absence of acclaim by the fact that Americans are notoriously sympathetic with the underdog. They love a loser, perhaps, or prospective, and their general breasts, throbbing with pity for the man who cannot turn, are cold to successful men.

And Mr. Mike, as he sat waiting and blinking in the sun, glared on labor day, was an object of compassion. He was large, muscular, and, as the position proved, he was intestinal.
Having more entrails than good sense, he knew how much his share of the must have known that they were more than a couple of Boy Scouts opposing the Dempsey combat division.
He knew that he was soon to be killed away, feet first, a pitiable ruin, before a spectacle of defeat before 100,000 persons, including his father, a Chicago policeman, and his wife.
Dempsey was not present.)
Familiar by experience with the heavy ordinance, he knew that he was to get it first above the heart, then the kidneys, and that, reeling, gasping, wabbling, withered, dazed, dumb and desperate, he was finally to be sacrificed in a posture of Mr. Dempsey's liking. Immediately after that a silence, perhaps temporary, while the black camel leaped slowly through the defensive mist which separates the defensive pugilist from the bank wherein he deposits the loser's share.

The Mike was only a comma, slightly preceding the great Dempsey epic.
A grain of dust, an atom, an instant which you brush off your sleeve and drop upon. That is what Dempsey was. He stepped upon him as one would tread upon a bug with his leather shoes. With this difference: Beneath the merciless Dempsey there lurked the fellow-feeling which makes us wondrous kind. All the brief battle Dempsey imposed on him that he did not want to be there. He had an idea of what was to be done and I need the aspect and a sooner-the-better when Mike lay like a man in Belgium, sprawling, a human heap upon the mat, the great weight of his opponent revealed itself.
After the referee (from Levensville,
I had tossed the ten clouds upon my adversary Dempsey stood for a moment as if to say, with the king: "I could have spared
you, man." Then he stooped, and scraped the Mike ashes up and scattered them upon their chair. Although I did not see it, and I have found no one who could, I am sure that there was a tear in Dempsey's eye, and a groped a briny way back to his thoughts of his folks (to whom he owed the home life that the poor of others makes possible.

While Dempsey was the stupid figure in these Benton Harbor games, Mike added essential color to the scene. "Ere the dolphin dies its eye is brightest," and the challenger was an irresolute rainbow in the fog of the fatal third round. He was the floor, and all the vital organs of his anatomy, except his interest, were pleading with him to stay

Is Boxing Popular Hereabouts? Look at This Labor Day Crowd at Benton Harbor

Spectators from other cities formed the bulk of the crowd at Benton Harbor. They traveled on overcrowded trains and boats to a comparatively small town, entirely inadequate in hotel accommodations to house more than a fraction of the throng over night. They paid railroad fares and $134,904 for tickets, and thousands of dollars more for meals and taxicab fares to the arena. With a boxing law in Illinois the inconveniences suffered would be avoided, and the money expended would remain in Chicago.

Mike (at left) puzzled by the characteristic crouching position of Dempsey when shifting and weaving around to find an opening. Jack shifts and teints with his body as well as his hands.

knees and prayed that it might be spared. It didn't have a chance. The cognoscenti of the prize ring, the battle critics of the newspapers, say cynically that Mike, when he resumed his erstwhile feet after he was first knocked down in the third round, knew not what he was doing. They write that he was pacing himself to find out where he was.

I, a romantic amateur, prefer to believe that he said to him-feeling of partiality toward the strong Frenchman who went to war, as against the brave though prudent American who preferred to wield the paint brush rather than the bayonet. Dempsey had his reasons, as many of us had, and I have read that he is valorous, and good, and true, and patriotic, and that though he was eager to shed blood for America he was stopped as the actors were, by the war department. But on that afternoon whereon Carpenter, who was a soldier, is abused, humiliated, and extinguished by Dempsey, who was not, though he wished to be, I care to be somewhere else.

The environment of the Benton Harbor fistcuffs was rather noxious. We waited for an hour while two truck gardeners and a volunteer fireman fixed the mat, and I think, if a lady in a sun bonnet had come to the entrance of the stockade and had said,
"Seth, supper's ready," half of the spectators would have gone home. These spectators, however, had their high points. In a casual glimpse of the thimble I saw Eva Tanguay, Tiffany Blake, Mr. Hoynes, the state's attorney; one of the Iopes, Tom Chamberlain, Rubie Cook of the Cubs, George Lytton, Frisco, the dancer; Fred Mc-Laughlin, P. Hammond, George Silver, Harry Gibbons, John McCutcheon, and the lady whose name is legion. Most of the others were Hiram and Rufus.

The announcer, who wore a hat like a cathedral, introduced many persons as the "celebrities" and "indigna-taries" of the prize ring, including Floyd Fitzsimmons, the promoter of the exhibition, who resembled the chap who has the first chair in the Central house tonsorial shop. There was a sprightly bout between Grebs and Wiggin, whoever they are, and before the big trouble began, there was a program of music on an accordion—"Over the Garden Wall" and "Down Went Mc-Ginty"—by a musician from the House of David. Sam Langford, the smit-ter Negro, looking as if he were just escaped from the Old Apes' Home, played Uncle Tom to Bill Tate's large Eva, and Bill, a comely and an affable Ethiopian, did everything casual during the bout, except to smoke a cigaret.
It was a great day—but Mr. George,

BY I. E. SANBORN.
Hap Felch carried his name yesterday close up to that of Fred Merkle on the page of baseball history.

Felch, who had been asleep on his feet before they went to the plate, was the only explanation for the fact that the Sox dropped the game.

The Tigers, who were leading 5-0 in the seventh inning, were relieved by a pinch hitter, and Roy Wilkins completed the slugging.

Base Filled and None Out.
The seventh brought the long-awaited opportunity, the chance to crowd the Sox out of the game, as they had done so often before this season.

Jackson was first up, and opened with a swing which Young knocked down back of second but could not field in time.

Felch rapped his second hit into left, and Leonard began to see his own finish. He passed John Collins, filling the bases, with nobody out.

On the first ball pitched to Rieber, Felch stroked so far off second that Rieber picked him off the bag by a yard, there being nothing close about the verdict. There was no allibi for Felch. There were five runs behind and there was no possible play to call for his taking a lead off the bag. So far as that situation was concerned, he might better have stood on the base until the ball was hit.

The Run That Wasn't Made.
In spite of that, Leonard was so unsteady he passed Rieber, filling the bases again. That walk ought to have forced in a run and to have relegated the Tiger southpaw to the bench.

By Cobb started the Tigers on the road to victory with a triple in the fourth. He scored when Kerr juggled Veach's boulder long enough to miss a play to the plate. Doubles by Pinelli and Stange scored another run in the fifth. Errors by J. Collins and Rieber, combined with Veach's double and Pinelli's single to make two runs in the sixth; and a pair of singles, interspersed with a sacrifice, completed the fifth in the seventh.

DICK KERR pitched out of his turn on account of the illness of his arm, which compelled him to leave for St. Louis last night. Wee Dick performed at his own request, in order not to handicap the team for pitchers during his enforced absence.

The Tigers kept pegging away at Dick's stuff until they acquired five tallies in seven innings, after which the little southpaw was relieved by a pinch hitter, and Roy Wilkins completed the slugging.

Michigan's state police patroled the arena to guard against any disorder on the part of these 12,000 dogs of humanity. Their paws were broken only by the task of plotting each individual dog to his seat and seeing that he got what he paid for—also an unusual experience in these days.

Michigan state militia guarded the boat landings and the railroad stations in snore jobs.

The only elevating—or, more strictly speaking, "lifting"—feature of the whole affair was the efforts of a few pickpockets and con men from our fair city of Chicago, where such disgraceful glove encounters are prohibited by law.

Just one more reminder: The Dempsey-Misike bout could have been held in Chicago if Gov. Lowden had not vetoed a boxing bill which passed both branches of the state legislature at its last session.

MICHIGAN'S SHAME.

APPROXIMATELY 12,000 hardened and desperate characters gathered in an arena in Benton Harbor, Mich., Monday to see two brutes in human form pommel each other until one was knocked insensible.

The hardened and desperate characters were lawyers, physicians, bankers, actors, business men, and others of that ilk, including a fair sprinkling of women, from Chicago, nearby cities, and the home population.

The two brutes in human form were clear eyed, clear skinned, muscular young men, apparently strangers to disputation, who went about their work until one was unable to continue. Then the other, instead of grinding his heel on the prostrate form or "throwing the book into him," as we know it here, where our morals are more carefully guarded, bent over and carefully picked up his fallen foe and assisted him to his corner.

Michigan's state police patroled the arena to guard against any disorder on the part of these 12,000 dogs of humanity. Their paws were broken only by the task of plotting each individual dog to his seat and seeing that he got what he paid for—also an unusual experience in these days.

YANKS LEAVE MAYS AT HOME WHEN THEY GO TO CLEVELAND

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Carl Mays, New York American league pitcher who threw the ball which resulted in the death of Shortstop Ray Chapman of the Cleveland team, did not accompany the Yankees when they left here tonight on their western trip.

Col. T. L. Huston, one of the club owners, announced that Mays would not be with the team during the series which opens in Cleveland Thursday, but that he would rejoin the club in Detroit.

"We are not taking Mays to Cleveland," said Col. Huston, "not because we think there is danger of any trouble but out of respect to the feelings of the people there. We don't want to offend them. It is largely a matter of sentiment."

Women's and Misses' New Fall Suits

The Finer Fashions Just Arrived in a Specially Planned Display

Suit modes this season depart from traditions, and in so doing a newness and charm quite unusual is achieved. This is evidenced in the suit assortments displayed here. These suits choose for themselves lines that are different, the most luxurious fabrics, and a richness of garniture not seen in many a season.

*Styles Vary from Suits With Youthful Box Coats
To Those with Coats a Bit Flaring—Uncommonly Smart, Often with Cape-Deep Collars of Fur*

Every detail of cuffs, pockets, belt and collars takes new ways. There are new colors well named—pine needle green, moonstone gray, dryad brown, Suchow blue. Typical of these distinguished modes are the suits sketched above. Each sponsors a fashion certain of unqualified success.

Women's Veldyne Suits With Kolinsky-Dyed Squirrel, $275

Zanzibar brown and this fur are an unusually effective combination. The coat may be worn with or without the belt. Braiding and embroidered motifs on the coat, and caught under the panels of the skirt, are clever ways of emphasizing the newness of this suit. Sketched at the right.

Misses' Veldyne Suit with Beaver Fur, $250 Simple in Line, Charmingly Youthful

Sketched at the right center. The coat is in the youthful box style in much favor, and every smart detail accents the distinctive simplicity of this suit. In beaver shade and of fine quality Veldyne.

Three-tiered Ripples in Veldyne Suits for Women at $125

The woman who has a set of furs will choose this suit for its fine material and unusually good tailoring. The draped collar buttons in this season's way. The charm of the style may be noted in the sketch at the left.

Misses' Three-Piece Duvetyn Suits, $385,
With the Very New Circular Coat

Every feature of this navy blue suit, from the braided bands of Pompeian red to the circular cut of the coat, is entirely out-of-the-ordinary. The bodice is of satin embroidered in striking colors. The high collar is Australian opossum. Left center.

Women's Suits from $75 to $485—Misses' Suits from $50 to $385

How to Make Brooms

Imagine a sewing machine that sews together a big bundle of heavy straw to the size of a broom! There is one on the Ninth Floor now, making brooms every day.

These Model Hats were personally selected from Paris ateliers by our own representatives.

Hue de la Patis, Paris.

Our Imported Models
Have Come from Paris

French Room, Fifth Floor, North, State.

ESPECIALLY in regard to Hats is the decision of Paris awaited with a great deal of interest. These models, fresh from the boxes in which they came, prove that that city has not lost her magic. With all their freshness and piquancy, their incomparable French charm, they are thoroughly wearable, with lines as becoming to American women as to their French sisters.

New Sheets and Pillow Cases

ARE an annual necessity to the up-to-date housewife who looks after every detail of the proper appointment of her home with care and skill.

"Soft-Spun" Sheets, 81x99, at $3.25 each.

"Soft-Spun" Cases, 45x38 1/2, at 75c each.

These were made especially for Marshall Field and Company, and specially priced for this selling.

These well-known qualities are of the excellent, enduring kind which has stood for honest service in the past. This is a timely opportunity to reinforce the "always-needed" bed linen.

Second Floor, North, State.

Bright Ties for School

HERE are pretty middy Ties for the school frocks which require a youthful bit of color, three corner and square, in bright colors, and also plain practical shades, $1.95 and $3.75. First Floor, Middle, State.

Silk Petticoats,
Embroidered

EVERY woman knows that the texture and style of the Petticoat are big factors in the lines and smart appearance of the frock or suit.

These Petticoats are of a soft lustrous material which makes the ideal underslip.

The attractive model shown comes in all of the modish street shades including black, has the necessary straight lines and is finished with a good looking scalloped edge, specially priced, $8.95. Shown at left above.

The other model comes in same lines and colors and in addition has attractive design of self colored embroidery. Special, $9.75. Right.

There are many other attractive Petticoats to go with fall suits.

Fifth Floor, South, State.

Swinging Across the Campus

NUMBERED among the college girl's carefully chosen garments will be the smart separate Skirt, for on the campus she must be properly dressed—and that means smartly, yet sensibly. Novelty checks and plaids in soft contrasting shades make the plaited Skirt more attractive than ever. It is ideal for school and sports wear, worn with a jaunty coat or bright sweater.

A Skirt to be worn with middies is this one of fine navy serge, knife or box plaited, $13.75. Left.
